i Joey,

It's been almost 10 years since I've known you. Within those 10 years we have both gone through times of embarrassment, good times, sad times, new & different experiences through life. I'll never forget all our times at Saint Anthony's, especially with 'ole "Turk".

Never forget all our great times in high school. I want to thank you for all the help you have given me in my high school "politics". Believe me it wouldn't be possible without you & all your help. To me you are just as much a part of our family as anyone I know. I hope you will continue to feel welcomed and comfortable at all times with our family. I wish you all the happiness in the world for eternity. No matter what you're doing & just want you to be happy. When I return from abroad this summer I better see you with the apartment & your new car that you said you'll have. If you don't have it, don't worry I'll understand. Keep your mind together & don't do anything I wouldn't do (and if you do name it after me HA HA!)

Take Care Brother,
Steve Rodriguez

Behind The Lines

Magazines as we know them today have faded into obsolescence. They are no longer needed to recount historical events and get the stories to a news-hungry public. Television and radio have fulfilled the need for immediate and accurate reporting, and in so doing, have pushed periodicals out of the race.

Magazines, therefore, can now afford to dig deeper below the surface for feature stories whether the subject be the latest venture into outer space or a profile on the antics of Willie Joe Namath. This new line of pursuit has managed to turn the printed word into an art form which stimulates the mind and arouses the senses. The magazine has become a media vehicle with distinct points of view ---both verbal and visual. It aims at a smaller audience of similar attitudes and interests.

And so it is with yearbooks. They record a nine month slice of life on campus from September to June; lives of students and friends, athletes and teachers, poets and scientists; lives of people with differing interests and divergent areas of thought.

In this RAIDER'S LOG, which we have nicknamed the "Raider's Digest-73," we have adopted the format of the magazine-art form to depict the culture and environment of Channel Islands High School and its student body. We are a student-faculty population comprised of differing colors, faiths, talents, ethics, and strengths. Our expressions and tastes range from flying paper airplanes to flying kites, from surfing to skiing, from the tender and gentle strum of a guitar to the electronic blare of amplified music, from the way we see the world to the way we look at an intimate friend. Somehow it is these "unlikenesses" which enhance the harmony in which we live. The variety of our lives, with all the subtleties and overtones, hopefully helps to create an understanding of one another.

We on the Staff sought to present these "varieties amidst harmony" in the pages of this volume. We tried to search out and delve into and share the experiences of the year, the happy with the sad, the good with the bad. We hope it meets its objectives and we sincerely hope you enjoy the book.

DRAMA IN REAL LIFE

Homecoming at Channel Islands was an evening of celebration. Throngs of fans cheered their team on during a tense and exciting game that ended in a controversial loss to crosstown rivals, Santa Clara. Alumni and students looked on as Queen Terry Moore and Her Court were crowned at half-time ceremonies which featured the theme, "The Way Nature Planned It."

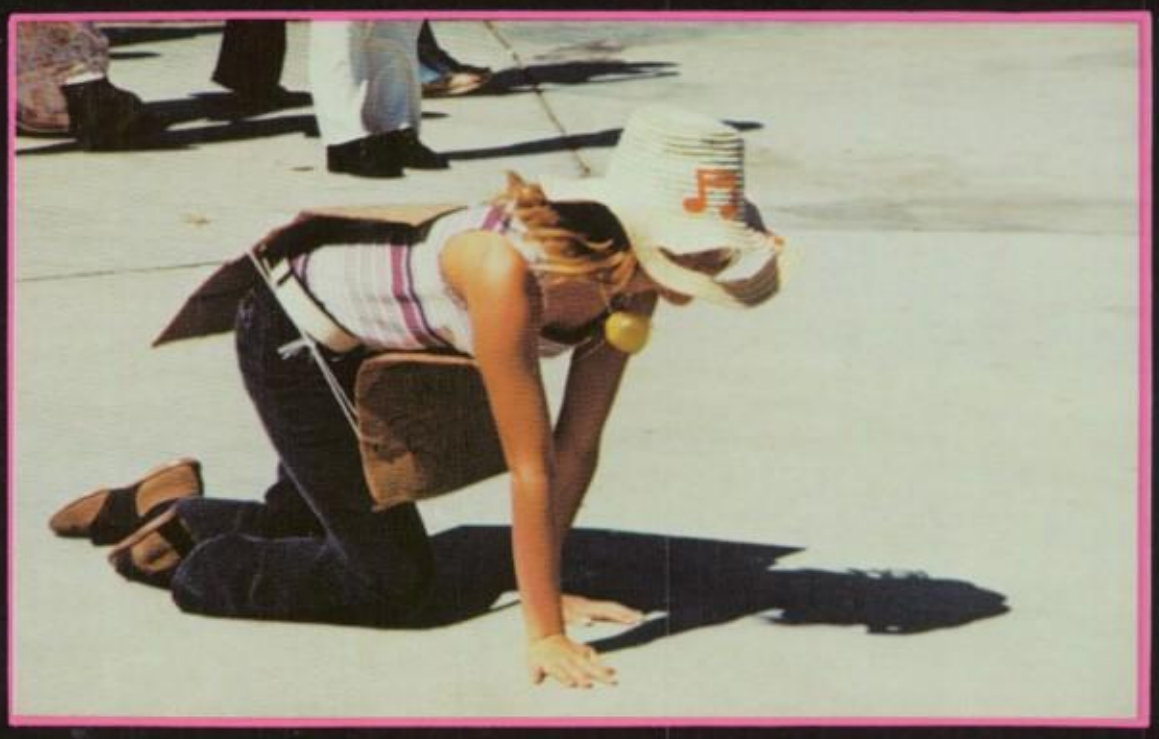
THE PERILS OF THE FROSH



The auction started and the slaves were sold. Then came the day, Slave Day, which meant crazy hats, made-up faces, pencil pushers, sore noses, shoe shiners, cart pullers, and exotic dancers. Upperclassmen issued commands as "mickey mouse" freshmen meekly gave in. Initiation Day was over and the freshmen were accepted.

A LETTER FROM THE PUBLISHERS

Last September and October, during the early weeks of this school year, the first of our major decisions concerning this publication began to surface. Ideas relevant to theme and format were batted around and argued over. When it came time to select a recipient for the honor of dedication of this year's RAIDER'S LOG, the arguing ceased and thoughts centered on one individual. A consensus of opinion resulted in a unanimous choice.

There always seems to be some sort of mystical awe that surrounds this particular honor of dedication. Students who normally joke and treat most occurences in their lives lightly become somber and serious at the prospect of singling out one individual for this very special recognition. To put it simply, we are stating that this distinction is bestowed with the utmost of care, thought, concern, gratitude, appreciation, and affection. It comes not lightly; it is a very sincere gift on the part of this student body.

"Wise Ole Pariso" peering out of his second home, room 36.

It almost seems unnecessary to profile this man and the "whys" behind the distinction that cites him as Channel Islands' "Man of the Year." He is a very visible man on campus. He hardly ever seems to make it to a Senior class meeting, but when something is needed for the class, it may be considered done. When it comes to Tibias and Sternums and whatever else is inside us, he is the man in the know, and gives exams that could kill any local valedictorian. When the leaves on the trees signal the coming of Autumn his thoughts center on the coming season and his passion for the game of football. And for the duration of that season he is one of a legion of men whose Friday wardrobe consists of an airy blue shirt that proudly states Channel Islands Varsity Football. He has an unmistakeable bow-legged gait that carries him across campus, onto the athletic field, and literally into the hearts of his students. He has a sense of humor that endears him to students and colleagues who find him the perfect ploy for affectionate practical jokes. He has a manner that allows him to laughingly grumble and grunt "hellos" to those who seek him out, and he has a way of coyly complaining about all that is demanded of him while loving it all the time. He is more a part of this school than he would ever allow himself to admit; he is an integral part of the lives he touches as an educator.

In a time when dedications have gone out the window, Tom Pariso is an exception to the man, to the RAIDER'S LOG, and to the students of Channel Islands High School.

but a Dream Within a Dream

TOP OF POLE, Jesse Martin - president. BELOW HIM is Doug Graham - vice president. STANDING (L TO R): Celeste Carbajal - communication and publicity, Val Clough - treasurer, David Clark - sergent at arms, and Janet Muchow - secretary.

We live in a highly complex and ever-changing society, and yet, despite all the complexity and change there are things that remain constant and traditional in our lives, things that serve to provide security and stability in an existence filled with the unpredictable. We latch on to these special moments that we may celebrate and cherish them. In our very fast paced lives we allow ourselves to slow down and sentimentalize over these occasions---we MUST do so in order that we provide a "little something for our souls." As the school year rolls to a close, graduation takes its place amongst those "warm times" in life for all the reasons that commencement speeches and cliches have stated, and for a multitude of personal reasons as well. The past ten years of our seventeen years of life on this Earth have been filled with craziness and crises; crises here and abroad, crises political and social, crises of intellect and identity. We are the best educated generation in history and yet we seem to know little. We are at the same time optimistic and cynical about our futures. We deal largely with the present, with each day as it comes, but feel concern for tomorrow. We are filled with wonder and curiousity. We question, we challenge, we dream, we seek to express. On the given day of June 15, 1973 we are supposed to topple out of childhood and embark upon adulthood with the flick of a tassle. We are anxious, yet fear our unpreparedness to do so. We leave a little of ourselves behind at Channel Islands and take much of what the past four years have offered. We arm ourselves to face tomorrow as best we can; we arm ourselves with a battery of poems and prayers and promises.

"Of poems and prayers and promises,
And things that we believe in,
How sweet it is to love someone,
How right it is to care,
How long it's been since yesterday,
And what about tomorrow?
What about our dreams
And all the memories we shared?"

Joey,
What can I say it's really hard to find the right words. Your friendship means so much to me. You really are a special person. It has been so much fun knowing you these last three years. We really did some crazy things, huh? Remember how everyone's parents thought we were "Good Kids"?? What a laugh! Don't ever forget Mandalay Bay, our parties, your birthday party, Tony (Nana's driving lesson- remember?), crazy things we did at Steve's, the Enchilada banquet, the Prom. This year was a let-down compared to the past two & hope we have more years of fun and friendship? Good luck in all your future pursuits (Please try to finish school so you can go to Ventura with all of us.) I wish you all the luck and happiness always.

Take Care & God Bless

Love Always,

BYGONE DAYS

Culture Fair, Club meetings, whatever, typical happenings during a school year. That's part of LIFE isn't it? That is what LIFE is devoted to. Hard times and good times, we experience them all. This year of 1973 has been a new year for us. Taking our Yearbook Staff for example, there have been tears shed for loss of a deadline. But thank goodness we've pulled through. Too much of a memory has been imprinted on our minds from those tedious days. But don't we have some people to thank? The wonderful girls we have on our staff need credit for their laborious work. But then there is that one individual who made the load light on us, In fact she was the one who helped us pull through. I don't know what we would do without her. Miss Audrey Glickman, a person with warmth, humor, and understanding. Why don't we recognize her. People like her don't come easy. I would like to thank our Student Body for backing us up, of course isn't that a part of life?

Gretchen Lopez
managing editor

These will now be bygone days. Days that are now a part of the past. But they live on only as memories. I don't know if I have done my job as I should. I guess I was alright. But please keep in mind that these pages are a part of you. Your faces are seen on these very pages. Cherish them. I hope that you enjoy this book.
With sincere thanks and love

Gretchen Lopez

Steve Rodriguez - A. S. B. President

The twenty members of the 1972-73 Student Government Class, advised by the one and only Mr. Cherry, have spent many long hours working together to make this past year at Channel Islands count. Part of their busy schedule included the planning and scheduling of more assemblies, rallies, aftergame dances and the student exchange days.

Being President of A. S. B. and O. D. C. both take up most of Steve Rodriguez's time.

Part of Vice President Darryl McCall's duty is to preside over Student Council.

Secretary, Cindy Gore spends her time writing up minutes, taking roll and lots, lots more!

Government by, for, & of the Students

This year's Student Senate, the same as last year? What? If we keep the campus clean for one week, we get out early on Friday? How early is early Darryl? A Photo-Stat Copier-a Must. Hey guys--what happened? Don't you remember where the library is? Didn't they try that last year? Darryl reported. Darryl said. Darryl who?? Confusion. The advisor's annual headache. The next day, the representatives give their report--nothing accomplished!! Maybe next year!?

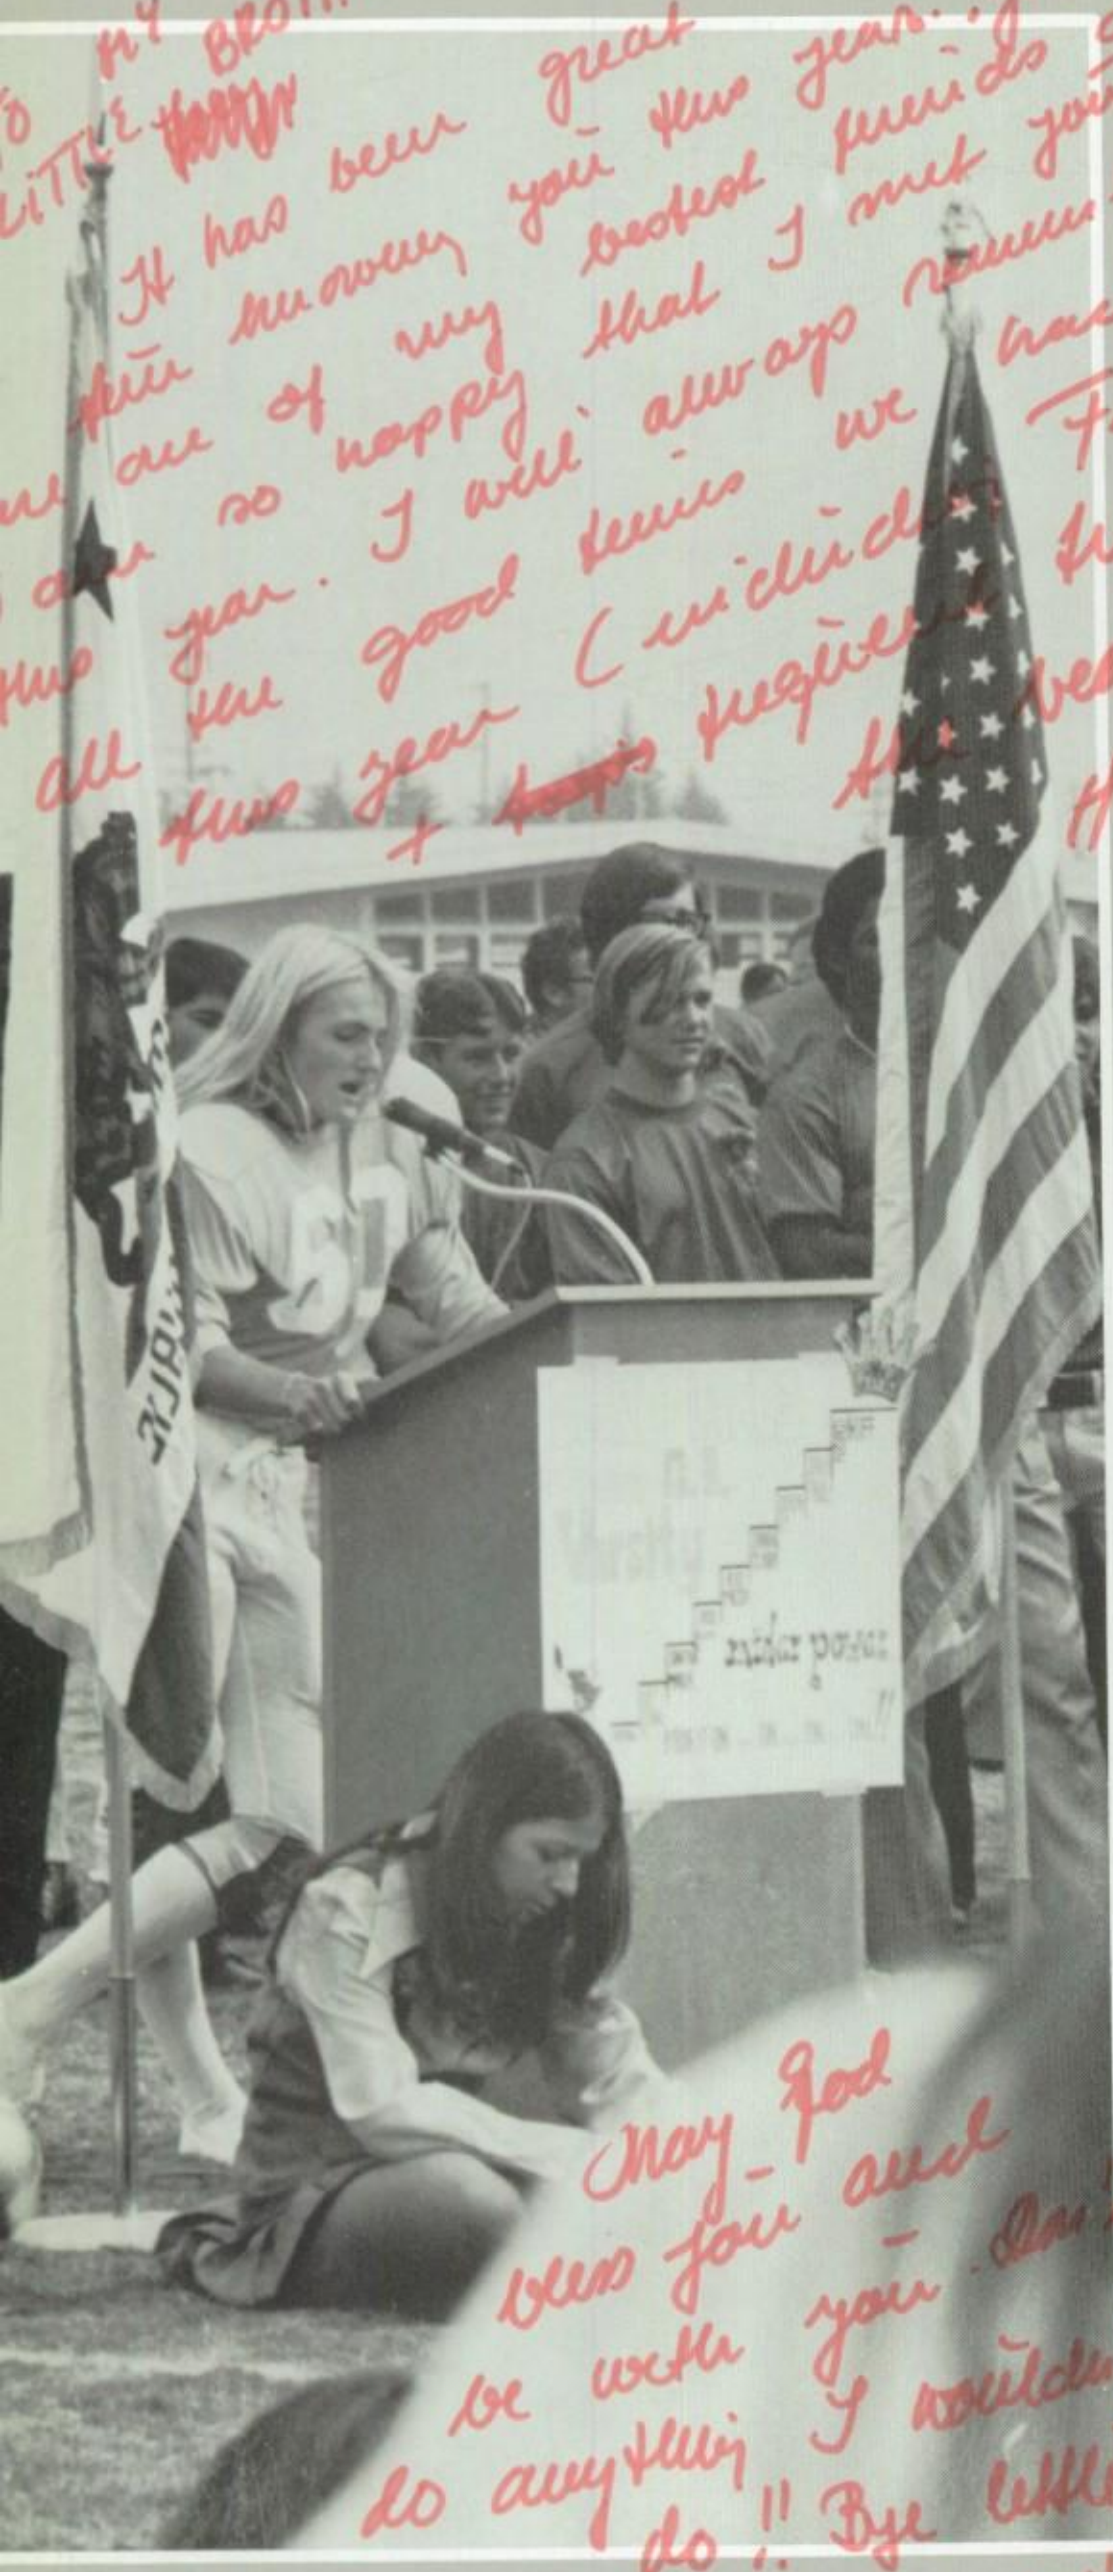
A Nordic Beauty Named Vibeke



Vickie extends her "hellos" at the first rally of the year.

Norwegian beauties are a rarity in California, but we are fortunate enough to have one. Kari Vibeke Holm Anderson, otherwise known as Vickie to all the students and teachers on campus, was born in Oslo, Norway on February 22, 1955. Vickie is the younger of the Anderson's two daughters. Cathy, her older sister, is 19 years old and was a Youth For Understanding Student last year at Hueneme High School.

Vickie enjoys skiing, playing tennis, sailing, and last, but not least, track. As a matter of fact, she has won a total of 29 gold medals for track events alone. She loves animals, especially her two hunting dogs, Bessie and Benzo. Back home, she takes them both for walks in the woods, as she also loves nature.

Vickie loves her American family, the Zarganagas, and travels around with them a great deal. She really likes the school system in America. When asked why she said, "Cause we can pick our own classes!" Vickie enjoys being with people and likes school activities, especially games and clubs. One of her favorite games is bowling, which is something she didn't get to do in Norway.

When Vickie returns to Norway she has one more year of high school left. She has learned, through her many years of schooling, to speak Norwegian, English, French, and German fluently. After graduating from high school she plans to continue her studies in Switzerland, studying physical therapy, or she will go on to Oslo to study law.

French Revue

Straight from Paris France, this years French Club is "fantastique, magnifique et supreme!"

Travelling across the continents to Channel Islands High School, its gay revue includes officers Julie Turney (Pres.), Kathy Beard (Vice Pres.,), Heather Jardine (Secretary) and Bill Benoit (Treasurer)

Featured in the show are many fund raising activities, including an authentic French recipe for "crepe suzettes" used in the recent Cultural Fair. Also featured are many dedicated and hard-working members

Brought to you by Miss Taylor the indulgent sponsor of this travelling escapade, this is surely one show that will long be remembered and shouldn't be missed.

The FEC was happy to have Vickie Anderson from Norway as their exchange student this year. The social activities of the club gave students a chance to meet Vickie. This year F.E.C. and French Club had a joint Christmas party.

The money raised by this club is used to buy things such as senior pictures and yearbook for our exchange student. The club sponsors the inter-class basketball game each spring.

MECHA gets bolder on campus

One of the best organized clubs on campus is Mecha. Mecha has won the "Club of the Semester" award for the last three semesters. This past year Mecha has been busy with many activities such as raising money in order to purchase books on Mexican/ American history for the school library.

Other activities include serving as interpretors for the Oxnard Elementary School District and Conducting an annual used cloths drive at Christmas. Also they sponsored Mexican food sales and produced their annual "Cinco de Mayo" assembly.

Mecha's goals are to expand the educational opportunities and goals of the Mexican-American students and to provide service to the school and community. Another goal is to provide a medium for self-identity and self-expression, and to foster an intercultural appreciation and awareness of Mexican culture.

Distributive Education Clubs of America is a club dealing with Marketing and Retailing. On this campus, DECA is one of the largest and most active extra-curricular organizations. Members compete with all other DECA clubs in the state of California Last year Channel Islands High Chapter was named the Outstanding Club of Ventura County. Practical experience and knowledge leads to good jobs held by good employees and this is the primary aim of DECA. In March of this year, members travelled to Oakland, California to compete in a statewide competition and again brought honors to Cl. Mr. Linc Anderson is the enthusiastic sponsor of this group which has handled many sales and drives on campus---most "famously." the Poly-fluff animal sale and Christmas candle sales. During the fourth quarter of the year DECA traditionally sells Donuts.

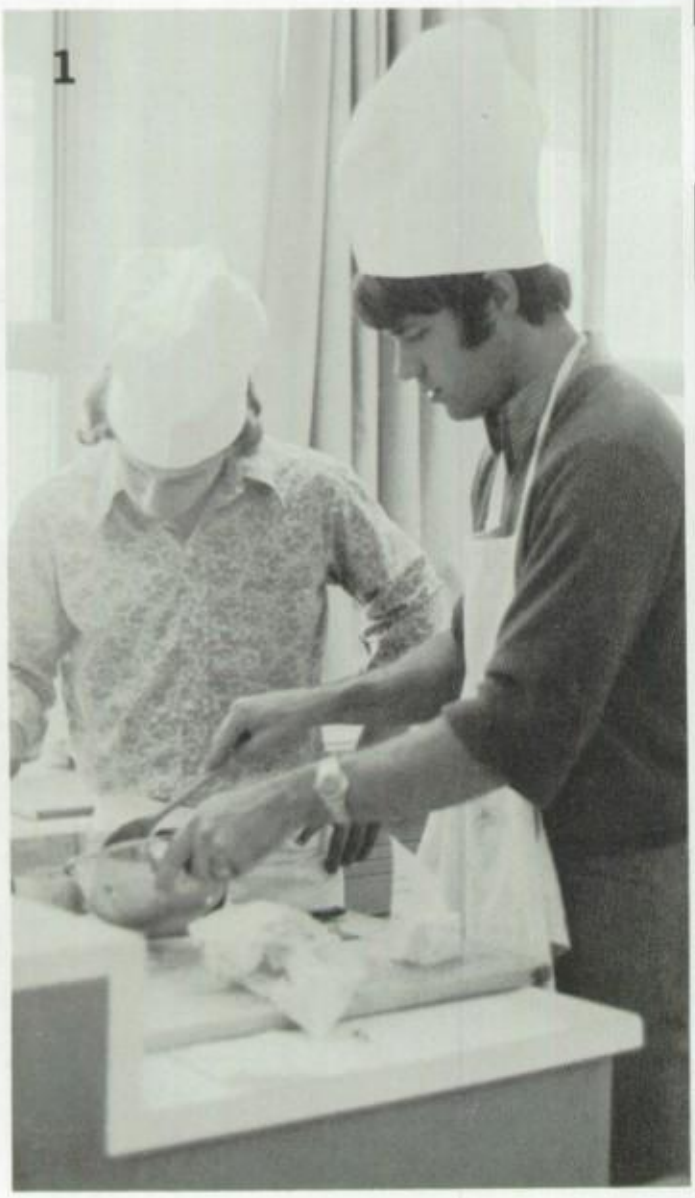
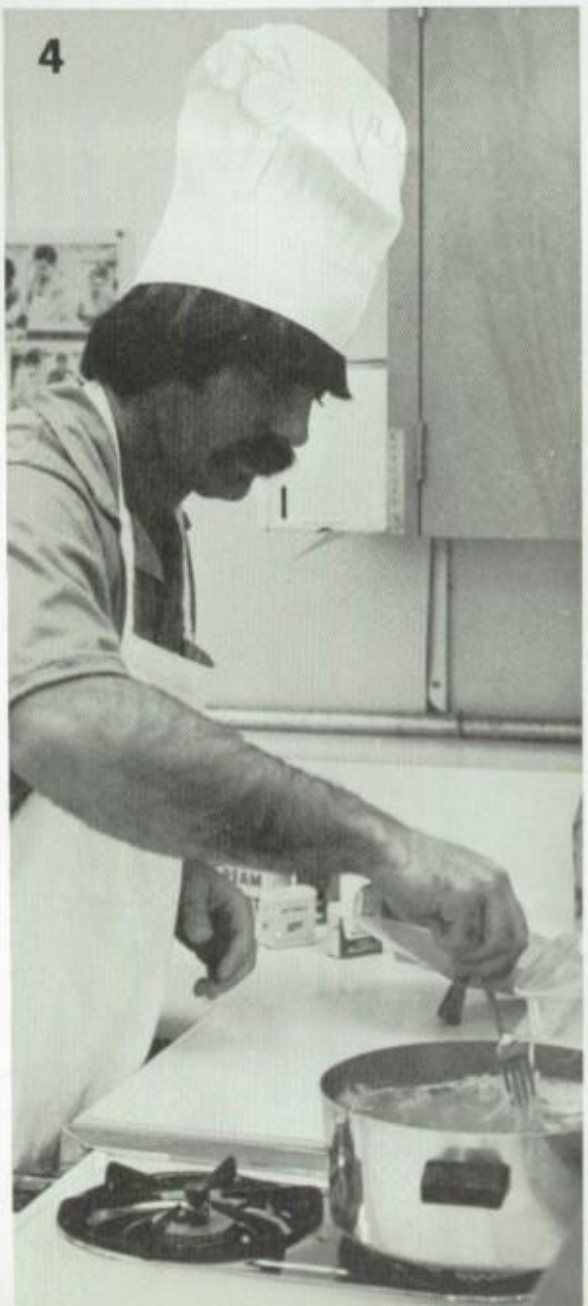
Cook-In!

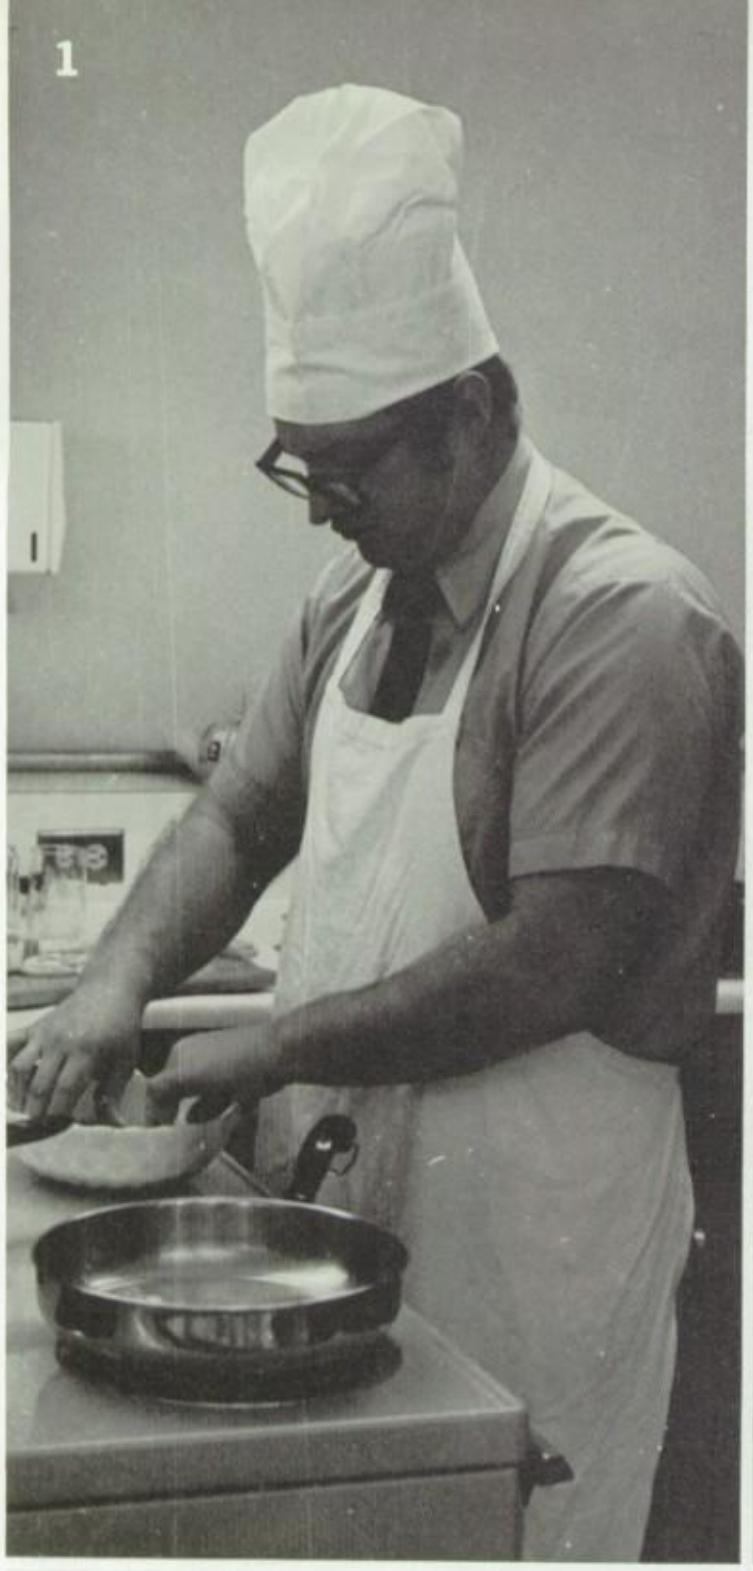




Valentine's day, February 14th, was a very exciting day if you were in room 35. It was Channel Islands' second annual Chef's contest started by Mrs. Griffin and the Home Economics department.

The judges consisted of Mr. Stocks, Thurston Washington, several willing teachers, and one of C.I.'s very own secretaries. Six teams entered, but as in a contest, only one can win. The lucky and talented team was Steve Nelson and Mr. Gershon won with their Barbequed Cornish Game Hens with Abalone Dressing and Pineapple sauce. The runner up was Mr. Wingle and Cecil Nungary with their Veal Cottoletta.

Overall it was alot of eating and a lot of fun. Thanks and congratulations to all participants and spectators.



1. "Peeler Plemons" and "Jumpin' Jack Intlekofer" prepare their very own beef stroganoff. 2. "Noodle Nelson" and "Gourmet Gershon" prepare to dig into their "winning chicks." 3. The big winner; Barbequed Cornish game hen with abalone dressing and pineapple sauce. 4. "Grape Leaves gankas" stirs his pot 'o' pasta. 5. "Fightin' Frank Tirado" finds chopping onions tearful business.

1. "Whirewhip Wingle" breads veal cutlets for runner up Veal Catoletta. 2. "Parmesan Pariso" and "Doug Golden Boy Graham" check out their Godfather's Delight. 3. Last year's winner, Thurston Washington, serving as head tasting judge. 4. Cecil "No Nonsense" Nungary spoons with winning clean-up girl, Tracy Reber. 5. GIRL'S LEAGUE

"Get your dress for the Sweethearts Dance!
Collect your pennies for the Cancer Drive!
Put a notice in the bulletin about our kissing booth!
Order the mums for Homecoming!
Come and pick mistletoe for Christmas!
Send a telegram to a loved one on Valentine's Day!
Be a big sister to an incoming freshman!
Are you woman enough for Girl's League?"

These were all familiar phrases repeated often by Girl's League members. This year the club added a few new activities to its already bulging yearly roster--Salvation Army Kettling at Christmas, a "Nice to be Nice" Week, and a March of Dimes drive. It's been a memorable & exciting year for our Senior girls & as for the rest of us--don't forget to bring soap to that car wash in July!

Girls league gets ready for a skit at first rally.

An idea cannot be stopped. That's what the staff of 'Nuestra Raza' felt about a year ago. Since then Betsy Valencia and Javier Santana came up with the idea of having a Chicano oriented newspaper to keep the chicanos informed. Their newspaper is composed of different articles, art, Mexican-American history and cartooning.

Nuestra Raza, which means "our race", has brought out some talent among the Chicanos that we didn't know existed at Channel Islands.

For being its first year at C.I. Nuestra Raza did very well, especially in activities that they held with M.E.C.H.A. They hope that in the future, they will continue to do well and if they have hard workers like this year, it's certain they will.

Future Business Leaders of America is organized to promote and develop business leadership, attitude, careers in business and business skill achievements through participation in local, sectional, State and National business contests.

Members plan and practice for contests in shorthand, essays, data processing, bookkeeping, typing and many other fields for the title of Mr. and Miss F.B.L.A. Winners go onto State Competition and the winners there go to the National Contest. C.I. has had section state winners in the past five years.

C.S.F.

California Scholarship Federation is looking up as usual and so are their grades. This club is scholastically oriented and entrance is based on grade point averages. The club is given a field trip each semester as a reward for their scholastic achievement. Each year a trophy is bestowed upon one senior girl and one senior boy in recognition of having achieved the highest grade point averages in their four year high school careers. Pins are also given to the C.S.F. life members. This year's sponsors are Mrs. Ortega and Mrs. Black.

THE CUTLASS

Vol. 6 No. 5
April , 1972
Channel Islands High School

Besides the fun of being on the Cutlass staff, a staffer is presented with a job. Whether trying to remain objective while writing a story frantically typing or doing layouts the night before deadline, Cutlass is real work.

So for those of us who collect school papers at the bottom of our lockers or casually toss them into the trash after glancing over the headlines, the Cutlass remains as just another paper. But for those of us working behind the scenes on the staff, the paper remains as a expression of thoughts and events.

Cutlass staff is known for it's diligent workers.

Forty Days And Forty Nights

In the forty days and forty nights between pressure-filled deadlines it takes people and pencils, copy and coffee, pictures and paper, and planning and patience to compose a good yearbook. From the title page to the index, the yearbook was intended to be a year long record of memories by and for the students of this school. The staff aimed to please the student body because the success or failure of an annual depends entirely on the book's reception. Thanks to our sponsor, Audrey Glickman, who cracked the whip over us, staff members worked diligently to give Channel Islands a book worthy of possession, pride, and praise.

PARTING SHOTS

As we pored over a batch of the pictures that came out of this school year we found some that yielded some tender or crazy or special moments that the photographer managed to catch probably more by luck than by skillful dexterity. These shots speak for themselves and yet seem to say different things to different people. Therefore, we have decided to let you write your own captions.

At the beginning our hopes were high, and the league championship seemed within our grasp but the dream was never realized.

Bittersweet are the memories of this years football season. We were so close but yet so very far away! The team was small but those who participated were the best and pride made them strong.

The Raiders ended the season with a hard fought 3-6 record. The first win was against Royal in the opening game with a score of 26-13. Later in league play, C.I. raced past Rio Mesa in a 20-6 victory. To end the season Channel Islands romped over Nordhoff 40-6.

Our teams greatest strength was in their good, fast offense and they brought it to bear three times!

as a Sophomore did not play much until the latter part of the season, but at that point it was easy to see his potential. As a fill-in for a Senior Back, John did a fantastic job. He grew and matured as an athlete and, as a Junior, came into his own. He was a starting back on the team and destined to make All-League honors. During that year, he gained close to 700 yards which was a new record for Channel Islands. In addition, he was selected by his teammates the "Most Valuable Player." and Best Back on the team. Selection committe for the Frontier League honored him as an All-League 1st Team Halfback.

As a Senior, John ran up a ground-gained total of 1201 yards (a new league record), scored 78 points and displayed talents most important to the Raider offense. The honors again piled up---Frontier League All-League 1st team selection, Most Valuable Player in the Frontier League for 1972, and Most Valuable Player in Ventura County. He was also nominated to play in the North-South Shrine game, an annual Charity Classic to which top high school seniors are invited.

Coach Pariso has said that in his fourteen years of coaching he has never coached such a talented back. "It is an even greater pleasure to work with such a talented young man who is so modest and unselfish and gives of himself 110% in every game."

As for the future, John hopes to go on to a four year university and with some luck, hopes to play professional football. We sincerely wish him the best of luck.

JV'S TURN WITH THE TIDE

The "middle" gridders endure a series of ups, downs, and disappointments in a season destined to find them finishing third.

Every day started the same - fifteen 4-count jumping jacks. No more, no less. Coaches Cardinal and Orseth called the shots for a team that had to settle for 3rd in the league. Disappointing to be sure, more so because of the players who quit midseason. The JV's The JV's sparked with a ground game that carried three league victories and came within a hair of a fourth. The Raiders led for all but 19 seconds against the Chargers. A blocked kick was picked up by a defender and run in for the score. Final: Agoura-18, Cl-13.

The mainstay of this team was its defense which held opponents to relatively few points. Outstanding players were Bill Benoit, Art Padilla, and Ralph Garcia.

When asked what they thought of this team players responded positively. They liked and respected each other; they liked and respected their coaches whom they thanked for their enthusiasm, fairness, and support. Those who survived the season felt they had a good thing goin' and look forward to next August when they can return to those same jumping jacks as members of the Varsity Raiders.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

The little men in the pigskin patrol really had their troubles this year. The loss of several players to the JV squad weakened the team in crucial positions. The Frosh took their lumps with pride secure in the knowledge that they were becoming more highly skilled players with an eye on the future.

1-2-3 over!

This year the gals on campus went into CIF Volleyball competition under the sponsorship of GAA. Games were played with other high schools in the district. Although the won-loss record was not favorable, the girls look forward to improvements and successes next year.

Miss Tatum and Miss Sholes coached the A and B teams and were generally pleased with both squads.

Now that they've gone "big-time" the team hopes to be outfitted in uniforms that display the blue and gold.

SIMPLY CALL IT RUNNING

Cross country is sadly one of the "unglamourous" sports on campus. The hours are long, the work strenuous, the competition stiff; but attendance at meets is sparse. The painful hours upon hours spent training to build endurance pay off in the 10 to 14 minute trot against the foe---another athlete from another school who has similarly prepared. The runner must take pride in his individual accomplishments because most often the roaring crowds are not there to reward him.

Coach Rick Knoles led the members of both squads to successful seasons. The Varsity, though suffering the loss of Angel Galindo, finished with a 4-2 record, led by the talents of Greg Nelson.

Soph-Frosh members distinguished themselves by sweeping the league title. The young crop of runners keep things looking rosy in the future of cross country running.

Individual honors went to Greg Nelson and Bob Aguilera of the Varsity for earning places amongst the all time Top Ten Runners.

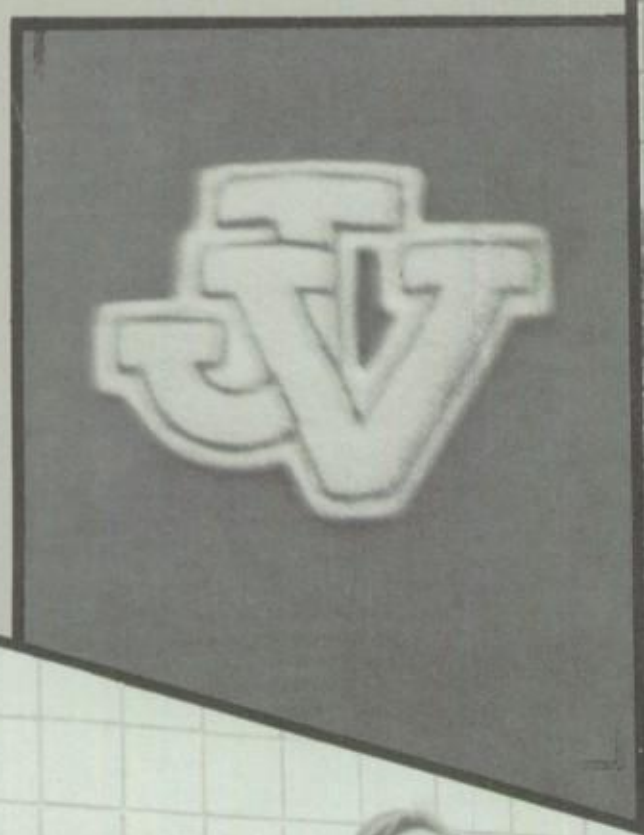
JV CHEERLEADERS



Our J.V's work hard to make up routines and get their jobs done. Although their crowd may be small in number their spirit is always GREAAT!!

To start off our squad we have Becky Ordonez, who seems to be quiet and frail, suddenly turns bubbling with enthusiasm and excitement. Then we have Rosie Campos who adds to the squad all those stiff but sexy moves. Each year there is always one who MAKES the squad, and this is Cheryl Collins. You'll know her by her smile and her forever running mouth. The icing on the cake for this squad is their head Yvonne Lerma. Whenever you need a friend you'll find her ready to listen and learn.

J.V. BASKETBALL

The Junior Varsity team was blessed with good height (two boys 6'4") and good speed (one extremely quick guard), but due to a lack of experience they suffered through some long evenings, particularly early in the year. With a starting team of one freshman, two sophomores, and two juniors, they improved rapidly as the year progressed and were very competitive in the Frontier League J. V. games. Late in the season, Freshman Jerry Jordahl moved up to play with the varsity squad.

BEE BASKETBALL

This year Bee Basketball had an exciting season with an overall record of twelve wins and nine losses, and a league record of six wins and four losses. They were right up there in contention for the championship until the very last but wound up in third place.

Coach Jim Escareno assumed the reins as head man for the Bees and was generally pleased with the season. "Our major goals were to prepare and develop the players for the Varsity squad. I think this was more than accomplished since six of the players figure prominently for next year's Varsity team."

The team sparkled with outstanding players, most particularly Ron and Don Thompson (known around campus as Roy and Ray) who were co-players of the year. Team leader was Leo Martinez who was elected to the honor of Captain. Most Improved Player of the Year award went to Tim Smith who proved himself a vital member of the squad.

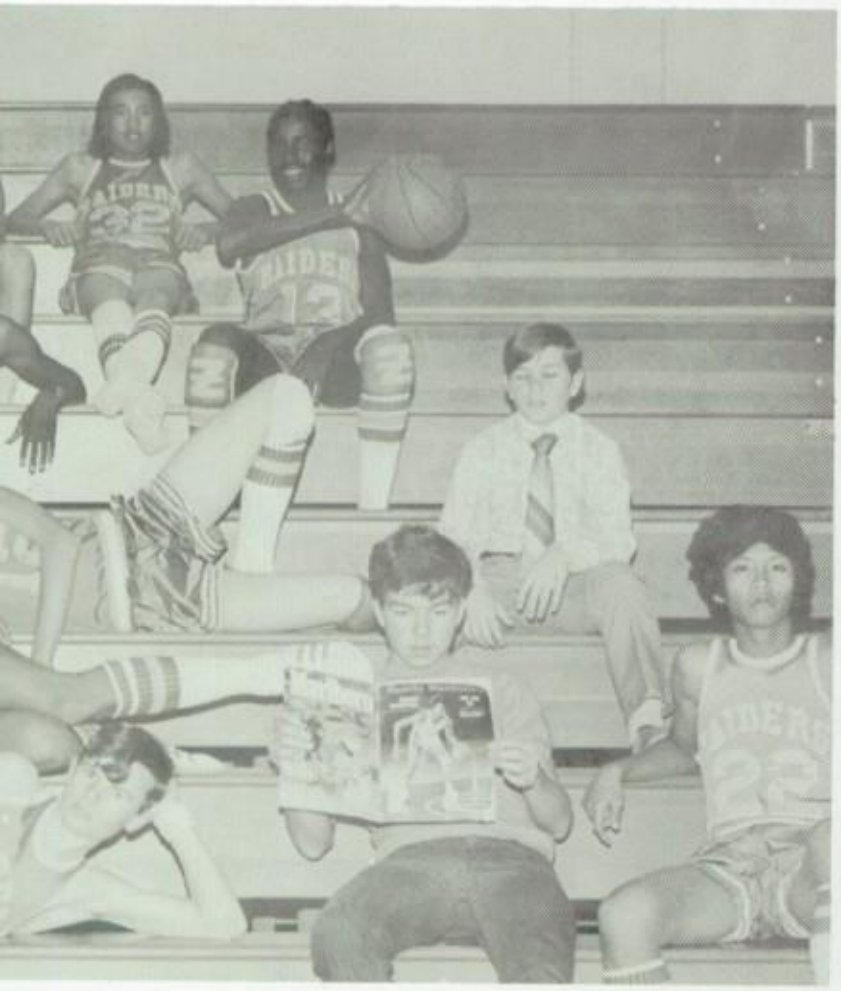
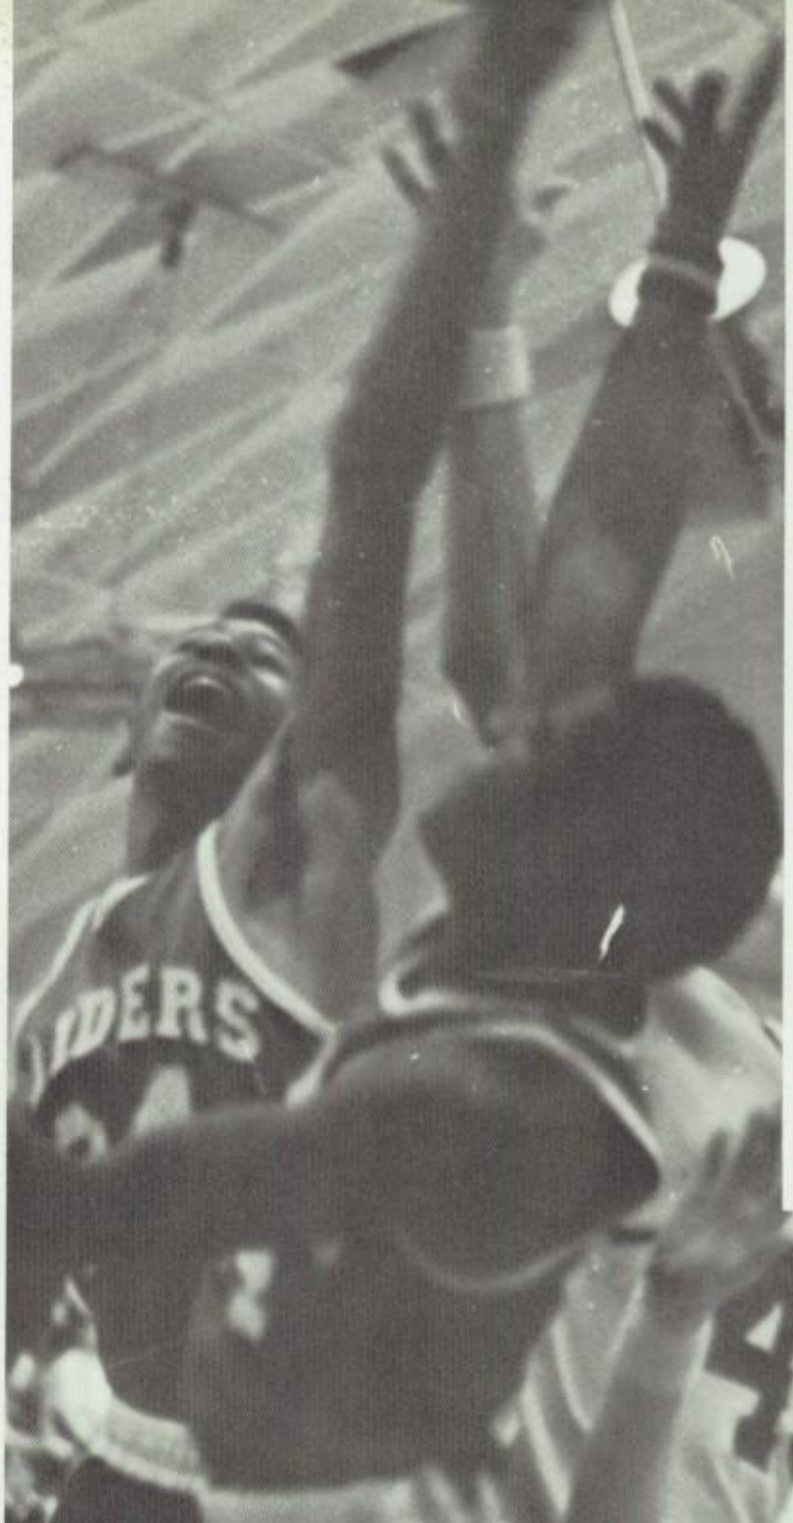
Every season has its most memorable moments and this year was no exception. Just prior to halftime in a tense game with Rio Mesa, Don Thompson held possession of the ball with no time to get across the court. At the sound of the buzzer he lofted the ball into the air for what usually amounts to a throwaway shot. Instead the ball soared through the air to find the basket from 78 feet away! A tip of the hat to Don for a school record that is bound to stand unbroken.





CEE BASKETBALL

Channel Islands Cee Basketball team had to run the gauntlet of a tough preseason schedule and lost to three taller and more experienced sophomore teams from the Channel League. However, the Cee Raiders did not lose their spirit and hoped to make things tough for their league foes. Coach Ornelaz feels that if the Cees can get their game together and play as a unit, they can become one of the premier teams in the Frontier League Cee division.

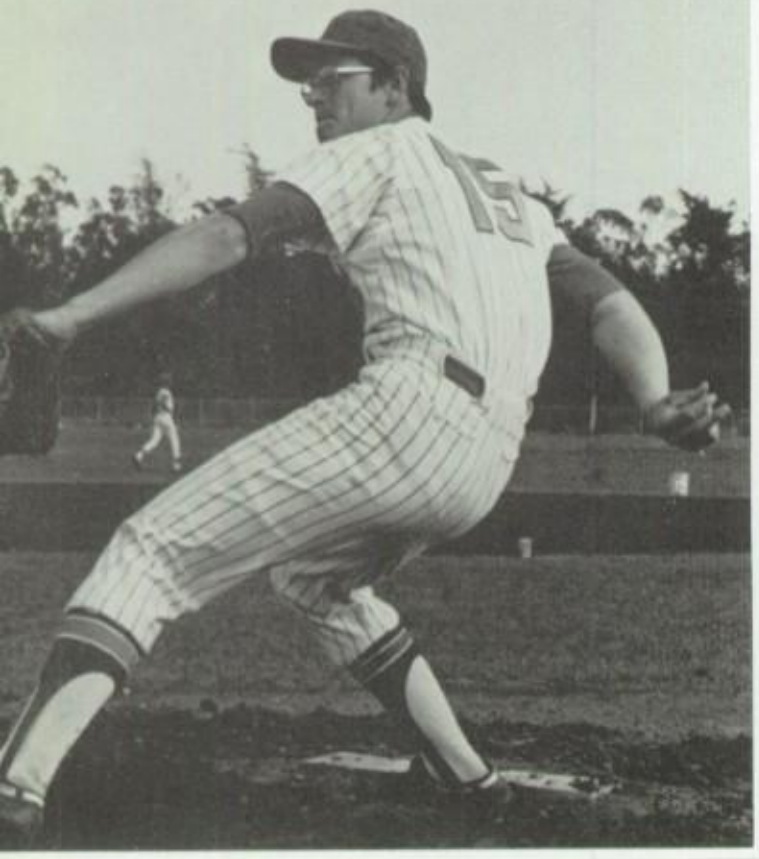
ROAD TO NUMBER 7



VARSITY BASEBALL

The Channel Islands Varsity Baseball team embarked on the 1973 season with high hopes of success. This team was the descendant of a great Raider baseball tradition. It was a tradition STEEPED with success that included an unprecedented seven straight Frontier League championships, and a CIF champsionship.

This was an experienced and talented team. Many of these young men helped the 1972 team reach a position of runner up in the CIF playoffs. The leaders of this group included pitchers Dale Smith, Armando "Super" Flores, and Ysidro Alfaro. The hitting was highlighted by the efforts of Buddy Wagemann, Joey Hernandez, Ron Lee, Don Lee, and Doug Graham. The defense was strengthened by Morry Fortney, Jeff Turner, Ray Jurado, Frank Ortiz, Bob Naylor, and Greg Allison. These men were all seniors and their experience formed the nucleus of our team.

Talent and experience always make for good prospects for any team, but it is knowledgeable coaching that developes and cultivates winners. At the helm again were Coaches Cardinal and Gershon.

CIF: HERE WE TRACKSTERS

If not because of personal challenge, then just for the sake of killing yourself. Whatever the reasons and motivations, track is the sport of silent thunder. It is a team against another team, an athletic against a standing record, a man against himself.

In high school track there are no taunting multitudes, but the noise echoes all over the field. Yet these are not sounds in the conventional sense.

These sounds are the results of tiring workouts and long preparations, of long bus rides to the meets and a sense of achieving something on your own.

Wrestling is a new program here at C. I. This year has been a building year and coaches Don Dodds and John Lorenza have high hopes for a bigger and better team in the near future. The team has had a very good year with several wins in the matches they have had.

You may think all that wrestling takes is brawn but it takes good judgement too! Wrestling is a game of snap judgements, knowing what to do and using your strength and power to the utmost.

Students seem to find many ways of expressing themselves, but the best outlet has been through art itself. Not in the sense of writing or music; but painting, sculpting, using colors to their own liking. This section has been dedicated to artwork as created by many students. These students have often created techniques of their own, which are used in a variety of ways. Who knows, there may be some new revolutionary ideas amongst these masterpieces.

Art classes are taught by Mr. Mike Harris, Mr. Don Burrows, and Miss Audrey Glickman.

PEP BAND

In the beginning, there were no such things as Pep Bands. But C.I., being a more advanced civilization, has engaged in a more educated form of cultured entertainment. We avail ourselves of them at almost every home game, and greatly appreciate their giant efforts to please the crowd.

Here enlies members of this unique group. Their faces unidentified, their personalities unphotographed, but their purpose clearly stated - to serve mankind, to preserve the culture and educate the people around them of it. (Or is that the Forest Rangers??)

Once again a new season for C. I. 's Concert Choir, and boy have they changed their image! New suits for the guys, and lovely gowns for the girls. A new season? Why not! The Choir, with Mr. Riggs as their director, have really gotten under way. Our choir has traveled to other schools, held candy and bake sales, you name it! Of course they must live up to their reputation. The Christmas concert was the most successful and most unusual given in its history. This year's Concert had an International theme. With different ideas in music the Concert Choir has been more than a choir. They know how to keep on singin on!

Choir Director- Mr. Riggs

Girls Glee

This year the Girls Glee provided pretty sights in their lustrous satin gowns and pretty sounds with their inspired performances. Their participation within the Music department includes travelling to local schools to perform, as well as pitching in on sales. In class the girls have studied music from its earliest forms to the most recent; this provides them with a variety of material and an appreciation of music. Keep up the good work girls!

On stage at the Christmas concert, the glee performs, "Do You Hear What I Hear."

Beginning Girls Glee

Alot of you have probably said that there is only one Girls Glee, Well, you're wrong. We would like to bring to light the Beginning Girls Glee. These girls work to the bone to enter into the group we call Advanced Girls Glee. And sure enough they get to the top! They are very active also. They have participated in sales with the other choruses. The group has grown this year, C.I. must have a lot of music enthusiasts! We would like to wish these girls luck. Next year will really be a challenge.

A talented harpist from Santa Barbara accompanied groups at the Christmas concert.

One musical group which fails to get much recognition on campus is the Mixed Chorus. They are behind the scenes but work with the other groups in sales and activities. This is the first step in working one's way up through the department towards higher and more advanced groups. Mr. Riggs teaches the chorus the basics of singing and rhythms. Best wishes to them as they advance towards a great future in music making.

Will the entire world come to a screeching halt? Will all hope be entirely lost because of one fallen man? Never! These were the eternal questions asked concerning the Senior Class production "The Drunkard", the story of two young people, (one, a morally weak person) who strive to live among the temptations of liquid fire, but to no one's surprise, Edward, (the morally weak one) had fallen into the pit. (Sigh) But alas!! Rencelaw comes to the rescue, and behold, Edward is once more a renewed person. Who was to blame for this whole nausiating situation? Cribbs, Of course!! Could there have been anyone else?? Undoubtably not! (He had the hots for Miss Mary!) The cast consisted of...Mark Winley as Edward Middleton, Cathy Ross as Mary. Chris Hayes as Cribbs, Cathy Rapp as Mom Wilson, Janet Strasser as Julia, Jack Goyeneche as Rencelaw, Charis Zagarnaga as Miss Spindle, Ed Hawes as William, Monica Perez as Agnes, Joey Santora as Farmer Stevens, Shane Davis as the first loafer, David Bowling as the second loafer, Renee as Patience, Chris Nelson as Farmer, Mark Reuter as the Bartender, Robert Jimenez as Old Lohnson, and several villagers which included Jackie Doerscher, Cheryl Carrignan, Susan Gehres, JoAnn Santora. Stage Managing and Student Directing by Jackie Doerscher, Directing by Miss Shirley Feigner, and crewing by Carol and Tish Wade, Hairstyles by Jules Verne.

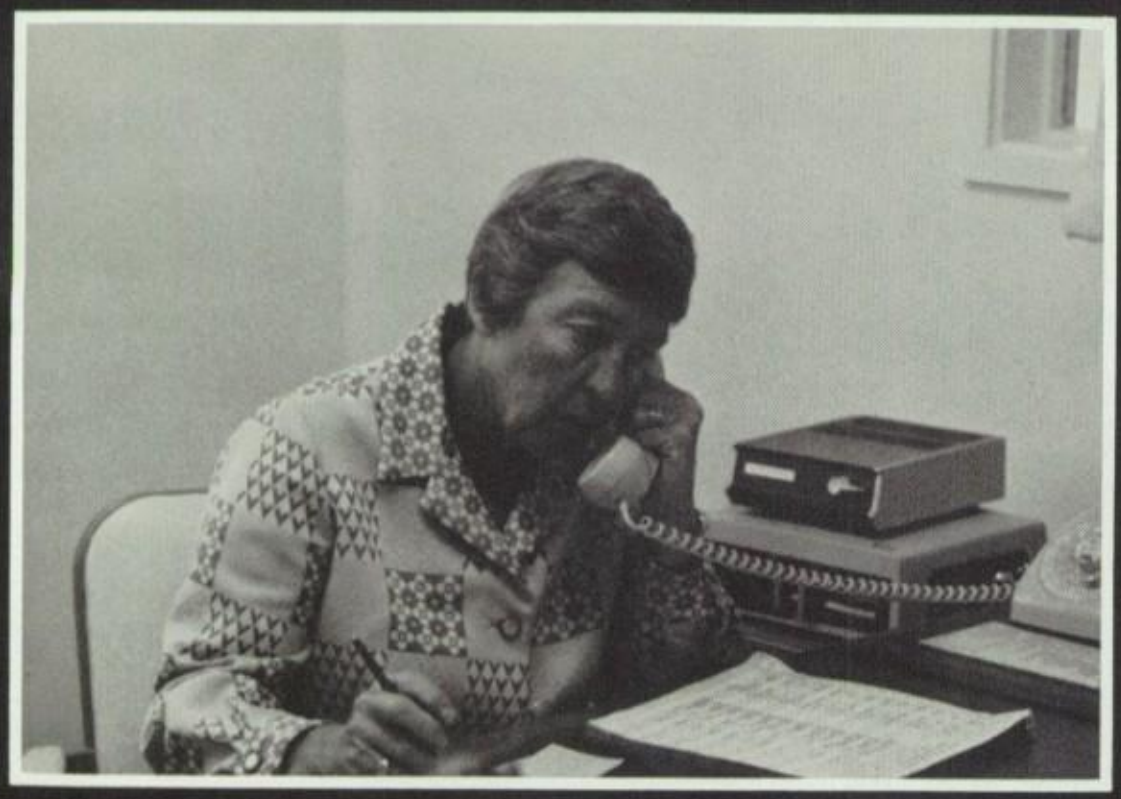
Channel Islands's Principal, Steve Stocks has been involved with the field of education for all his professional life. After graduating from Compton High School, he enlisted in the Coast Guard for three years and then turned to his college education. Studies at Utah State College and University of Southern California earned him a Bachelor of Science degree in Biological Sciences and a Masters in School Administration.

Since assuming the duties of Principal of Channel Islands, Mr. Stocks has taken action to initiate new programs relevant to the needs of the student body and community. He views the field of education as vitally important in the lives of citizens it prepares for our changing and challenging society. It is this major concern which governs his actions as he carries out his duties and responsibilities.



This year, as in the past six years at Channel Islands, Mrs. Donna Sterling has handled the responsibilities of Girls' Vice Principal. Part of her job involves her activity with members of the Student Council, as she is the lady who keeps tabs on the activity calendar throughout the school year. Some of her other duties include: working with Girls' League, and assisting all girls on campus with their innumerable problems.

Mr. Ken Benefield has returned to Channel Islands this year, but has taken on the new job of Boys' Vice Principal. This new position takes up a great deal of his time, and it requires an enormous amount of effort. A few of Mr. Benefield's responsibilities include: organizing banquets, Athletic Director, and of course, last but not least, discipline and assistance for all the boys on campus.

Perhaps you have noticed this new face on campus. Well, if you haven't, you must have been in every class, every day of the school year because otherwise, he would have called you into his office. YES, this man is our new Attendance Officer. His name is Mr. William Riggs, and we are proud to have him on the Administrative Staff at Channel Islands. Welcome Aboard, Mr. Riggs.

getting to know your counselor

LUCILLE STURM was born in Sturmill, West Virginia. She obtained her degree at Fairmont State College in West Virginia and then went on to the University of West Virginia where she did her graduate work. Miss Sturm was born in August which makes her a Leo. In the future Miss Sturm's plans include retirement.

MR. LANDAVAZO comes to us from Gallop, New Mexico. He was born in August which makes him a Leo. College years were spent in a number of different schools as Mr. Landavazo pursued his degrees. He has attended the University of New Mexico, New Mexico Western University where he earned his BS and MA degrees, San Diego State, UCSB, and USC.

NEDDA FRATKIN hails from Stockton. California. She attended Sacramento Jr. College before attending UCSB, UCLA, and USC. The lady is an Aquarius, having been born in the month of February.

From having spent a number of years as a school counselor Mrs. Fratkin has learned that all people have problems and must learn to deal with them themselves.

When she retires, Mrs. Fratkin looks forward to spending loads of time with her grandchildren.

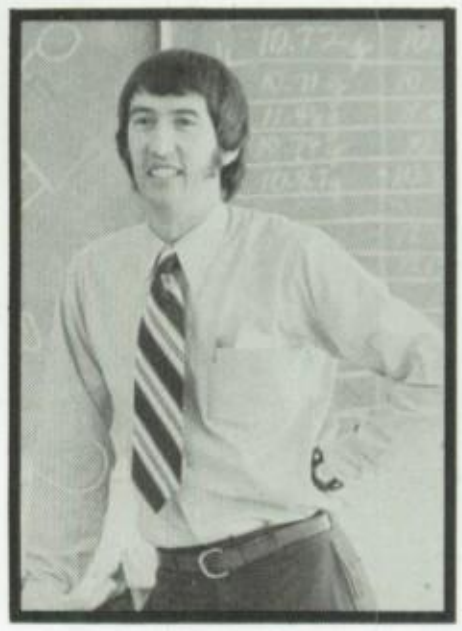
MR. MASTERSON is our Head Counselor here at CI. When asked what his job entailed, he replied, "It requires more administrative work to do. The Head Counselor advises the Principal on any counseling matters." He says he often feels overwhelmed by the job. Mr. Masterson was born in Fargo, North Dakota on Christmas day. He attended Moorhead State College, Minnesota where he majored in English. He also attended North Dakota State University where he earned a degree in Counseling and Guidance.

LARRY MURRAY is a sports enthusiast who spends his time counseling the "middle section" of the alphabet. In his spare time he enjoys most sports activities and found time to coach our wrestling team last year. Family life occupies a great deal of his time as there are a number of "little Murrays" running around, including a son who is presently a student here at CI. Mr. Murray is the "furry one" in the office; he usually manages to grow at least one beard a year.

CAROLYN ALBRIZZIO teaches Spanish here at C1 but finds outside time to pursue her passion for the arts. She is a devotee of Ceramics and manages to take a class every so often in that pursuit. To get away from it all, Mrs. A hops into her van with her two kids, Natalie and Jeffrey and heads for a campground or off to visit family in Arizona.

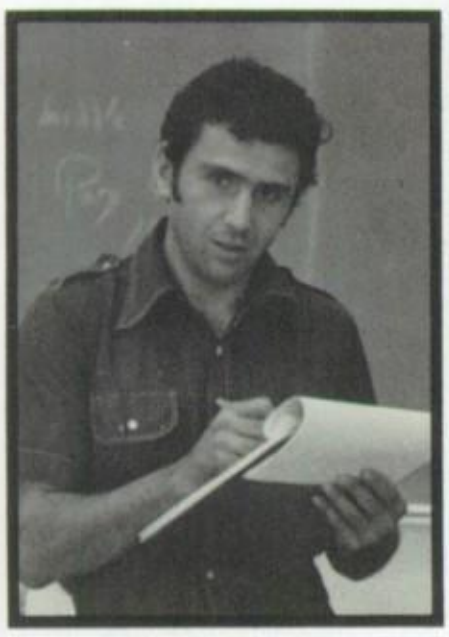
LINC ANDERSON is a "polyfluff pusher." At another time of year he may be trying to sell you donuts or xmas candles. The reason behind the hard sell is Mr. Anderson's devotion to DECA which occupies his time on campus and off. The Distributive Ed. program here at C1 is active due largely to this man's efforts.

ROBERT ANDREWS is a new addition to the Science department here this year. He also assumed the responsibility of coaching the JV Basketball team which he admits is his favorite activity on campus. Mr. Andrews commutes daily from Isla Vista where he resides with his wife and two sons.

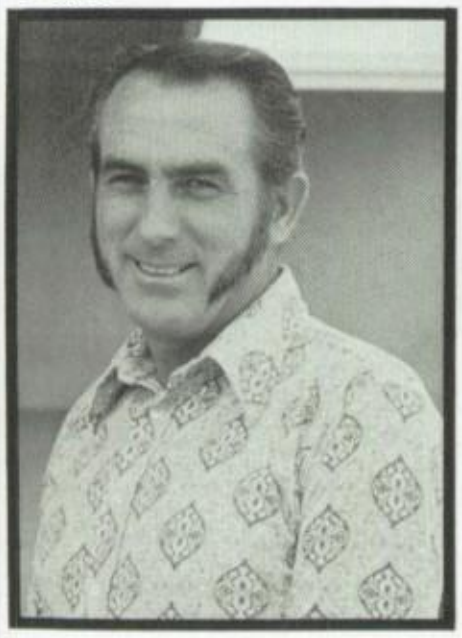


JOHN ANDRICH is new man in the Math department this year and handles freshman and sophomore classes. He is a "travelling teacher" and makes the rounds of the school getting to his different classrooms. Private time finds him seeking the quiet and solitude of the outdoors.

JIM ANSELMINO is one of the teachers in the "rainbow room"---the home of Simulated Office Practice, a new and exciting course offered here this year. When he's not complaining about the color of the desks and filing cabinets, Mr. Anselmino may be found indulging in his favorite freaky food---"anything from the school cafeteria" or heading to the mountains to ski.



LON AVANTS is a quiet sort of man who lets his creativity creativity do much of his talking. As a teacher of Crafts, Mr. 'Avants has worked much with his hands, particularly in the area of leather work. He often wears his own creations and spent a great deal of time this past year making a saddle. To get away from it all, MR. A seeks out places that come alive with country music.



NED BARTELS motors around town in a truck that bears his name and construction company. In his off-school hours our woodshop teacher does very respected carpentry work. This year we managed to catch him for our picture without his traditional metal helmet he wears in class to protect himself from falling beams.

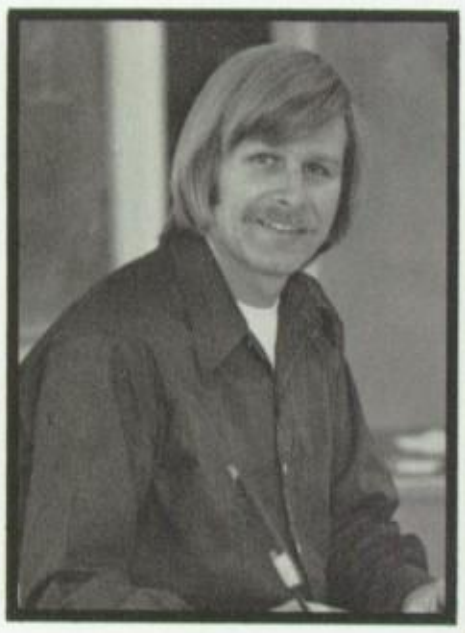
STAN BEAL is a former businessman and potential Olympic skier who turned his interests to the field of education. He works in the Business department and with the Distributive Ed. program while still finding time to help out with freshman football and to assume the duties of Junior Class advisor. Getting away for fun means heading to the slopes to ski, ski, ski!

JEANEEN BELLITTI, for all her experience in the area of Home Economics would have us believe that her favorite food is a potato chip sandwich with pickles. The lady is a Gemini and a believer in Astrology, one of a few people on campus to admit that she "follows the stars." Miss B. didn't cite a particular spot as her getaway spot but enjoys anyplace with good friends, good vibes, good communication.

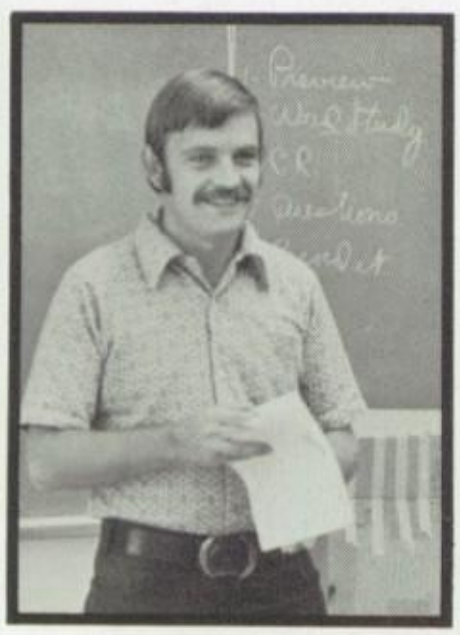
JOANN BLACK comes to us new from Oxnard High. She says one of the things she enjoys most about the CI campus is the quiet--no noise from the airport! In her English classes her most quotable quote is "all right, settle down." If you ever happen to have any cold oyster soup you'd care to dispose of, Mrs. Black will take it off your hands, especially if she can have it for breakfast!

DICK BRUNNER is our Math department chairman with the voice of a television newscaster. The fact that "fooling around with electronics" has long been a hobby has helped out in the efficiency of keeping the Math Lab in smooth running order; either that, or he's just working on those computers to figure out a way to "beat the odds" in Las Vegas.

PHIL BRYANT is a kind of quiet man who comes alive when reciting lines from Shakespeare or one of his favorite poems. His Students respond with sincerity to his admiration for literature. If he weren't a teacher, Mr. B. would probably be involved fulltime with the literary arts, though we are sure he does some writing now.



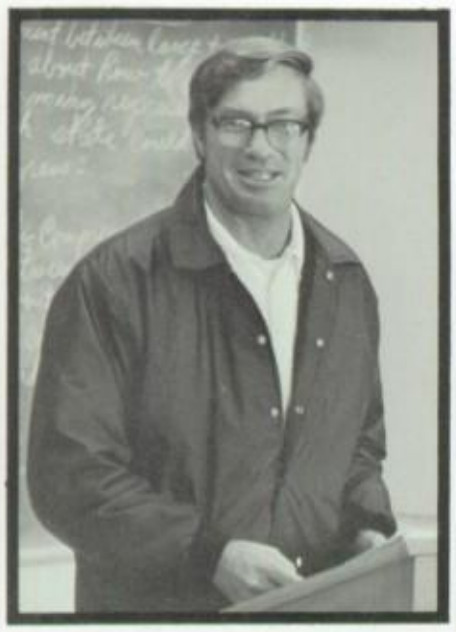
DON BURROWS spent a number of years working in business before deciding to return to school to complete a Master's Degree in Art. His students are lucky he made that decision. Mr. B oversees a most exciting course, Filmmaking, which was new this year. In his free time, Mr. Burrows can usually be found working in his studio or packing off to his cabin in Big Bear with his family.



DAVE BUSS is our Reading specialist on campus. He runs the equivalent to the Math Lab in the English department along with Mrs. Campbell. Mr. Buss rejoined the Coaches League of Channel Islands as the Spring semester found him in charge of the Golf team.

CAROL CAMPBELL is a pixie of a teacher who spends her time "learning 'em English." She also manages to team up with Mrs. Tang and Miss Taylor as a sponsor for Girls League. In her spare time, Mrs. C. loves to make the party scene, especially if it's Halloween and she gets to dress up as "Betty Lou" to her husband's "Teen Angel."

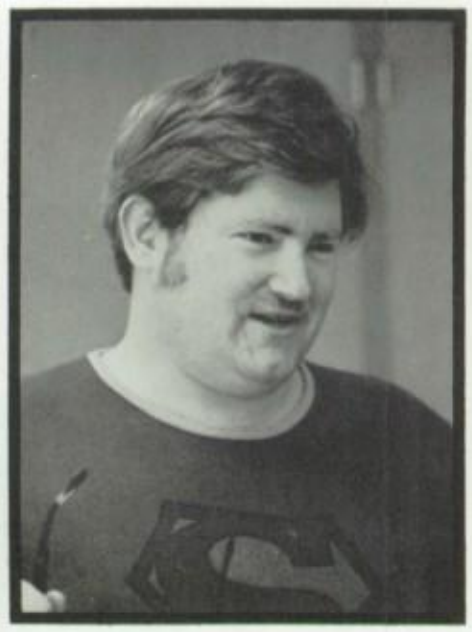
DON CARDINAL is the exciteable coach of one of CI's winningest teams, Varsity Baseball. This year he also took charge of JV Football. As far as favorite foods go, MR. C. didn't cite us any particular, but "if it's got walnuts in it, I'll eat it!" Most of Mr. Cardinal's spare time is spent with his family or concentrating on Baseball season with a dedication that has made his teams winners.



JIM CHERRY is a serious guy who likes to quote Shakespeare in class- "Garbage, he doth said." Our ASB Den Mother told us he's a Scorpio but refused to discuss it any further because the paper advised against discussing personal affairs that day. Mr. C. asked us to include one tidbit of info about him-in college he was named "Outstanding Freshman Athlete" 3 years in a row.

CHUCK CLARK is a diehard football fan who sits "up top" at every game to root for the Raiders, though most of his cheering is silent. In the classroom he is brief and to the point,--- "get to work!" The lure of clean mountain air is the factor which draws Mr. C. and his family to the outdoors when time permits.

ROYAL COPELAND is chairman of the Boys' PE department. Mr. Copeland offered us little information but our spies tell us he is a revered sports figure in Canada where he once played pro football. Other than that, our gentlemanly jokester would still have us believe his fictional escapades with the Eskimos and residence with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police at age 16.



JAY CROSBY is a new man on campus who came to us as a teacher of Public Speaking and Mass Media. He's a humorous guy who fancies himself the "Clark Kent" of CI. (see picture). Tales of time in the Navy prove entertaining when told by Mr. C. ---especially about that time he processed an order for a fully equipped Fire Engine for the Aircraft Carrier on which he was stationed.

MARY DABBS is nursemaid to the Pep Squad (to whom she usually has a great deal to say), but was pretty tight-lipped about herself. She has a passion for snow skiing and she and her husband take off for the slopes whenever possible. Mrs. Dabbs coached the Girls' Basketball team as it entered its first year of CIF. Someday ask Mrs. D. about that pig at the Kern County Fair.

TRULETTA DAW is a busy, busy lady outside the CI campus. She is involved in several community projects including working with the Teen Challenge Drug Rehabilitation Center, Camarillo State Hospital, and the Veteran's Hospital. Mrs. D. and her family also help out at an orphanage in Mexico and usually spend their Easter vacations there. When asked about her favorite food, Mrs. D. told us she favors "breadless sandwiches so as to keep her girlish figure."

DON DODDS handled a number of freshman Science classes this year as a new man in that department. He also earned the title of "Coach" when he took on the duties of preparing our first Wrestling team for competition. In his spare time Mr. Dodds takes off to camp along the coast of California or to lay in the sun on "any available beach."

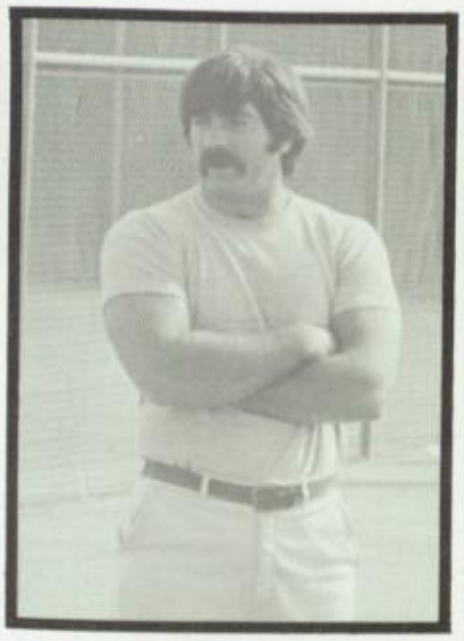
GAYLORD DURLAND holds the baton over all the instrumental groups in the Music department. He plays every instrument in the orchestra himself and writes many of the arrangements for the bands. Newest addition to the department is the flashy Stage Band which was most impressive in its debut at Homecoming. Mr. D. is sincere in his desire to "build the best instrumental music program in the state."

JIM ESCARENO comes new to us at Channel Islands this year and is performing in a dual role. In the mornings, he is the "Dapper Dan" of the Math department and then changes his clothes to teach two classes in the Boys" PE department. Mr. Escareno also assumed the responsibility of coaching the Bee basketball team.

SHIRLEY FEIGNER is a Gemini who heads up all the Drama productions for CI. She's a vivacious person who also enjoys teaching other classes in the English department. During her college years at Westmont College in Santa Barbara, Miss Feigner performed in many dramatic productions and therefore chose to pursue Theater Arts in her high school teaching career.

MARK FORMAN claims to be a Scorpio only "when I have to use my stinger!" (stale, huh?) He has an avid interest in sports and spends many weekend afternoons in the park playing football. He usually takes along a picnic lunch which is bound to include his favorite food of kosher pickles dipped in ketchup.

FRANK GANKAS is our good looking "Mr. America" of the CI campus. The students in his PE classes wonder why he doesn't save some of his kindness and charm for class---they complain that he's "too tough." Varsity football occupies much of Mr. Gankas's time as he works with the offensive line with the other coaches on the staff. In his spare time, sports occupy most of his thoughts, though we know that Mr. G is concerned with keeping the bodies around here "healthy."



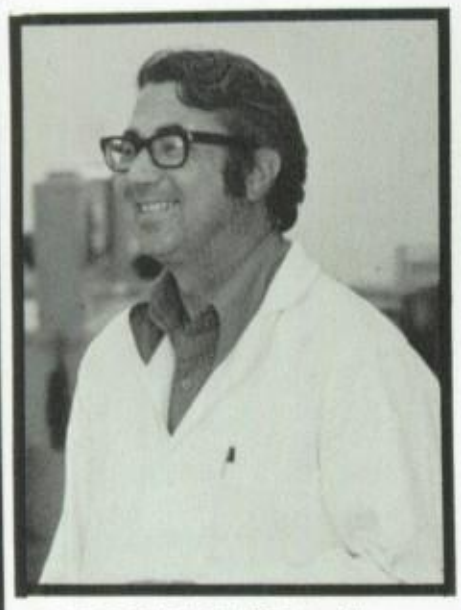
JOEL GERSHON assumed the position of chairman of the Special Ed. department this year. He also pursued his love of sports as a member of the Varsity Football staff and assistant to Coach Cardinal with Varsity Baseball. Mr. G. is the "ultimate optimist;" he has something positive to say about everything, and to everyone. If you want to feed him something he loves, offer him a knish.

AUDREY GLICKMAN has become known as "Casey Crack Photographer" on campus because she's always taking pictures for the LOG. -One would think her camera is a permanent extension of her left eye! She spends much of her other time painting spirit signs for the locker room, dressing up footballs for banquets, designing shirts and plaques, and attending league contests because, "I'm a real sports freak." This year Miss G. became one of the Senior sponsors and was advisor to this magnificent volume, the "Raider's Digest 1973."

KEN GOSE is a retired Naval Officer who has been teaching in the Social Studies department here at CI for a number of years. He is an excellent bridge player, a skill he polished while on long tours of duty in the service, and is a regular in the "fifth period lunch bunch" game. He and his wife, Ola, enjoys travelling during vacations with their three children.

DOREEN GRIFFIN, the "Perle Mesta" of CI can often be heard urging her students to "try it, you'll like it. When the students finally respond to testing whatever the concoction, she further dubs them with, "Bless you, my child." Even stranger than Mr. Forman's passion for pickles with ketchup is Mrs. G.'s adoration of toast with ketchup. And this from a Home Ec. teacher? Try it, you may like it!

MIKE HARRIS aside from being a talented printmaker, would have us believe that his claim to fame is that he once ate raw octopus. That was when he spent some time in the Orient. Now when he wished to "get away" he runs off to Camarillo and if he really gets adventurous, takes off for Somis. Mr. Harris had a tough time trying to recollect his birth sign--the best he could do was describe it as "some aquatic anthropod."



GARY HARRITT lets his students know they've responded correctly to a question by shouting "2 points!" When Mr. Harritt manages to escape the Electric Shop he head for any place in California ("except L.A.!) or Baja where he spends his time hunting wild duck, quail and dove.

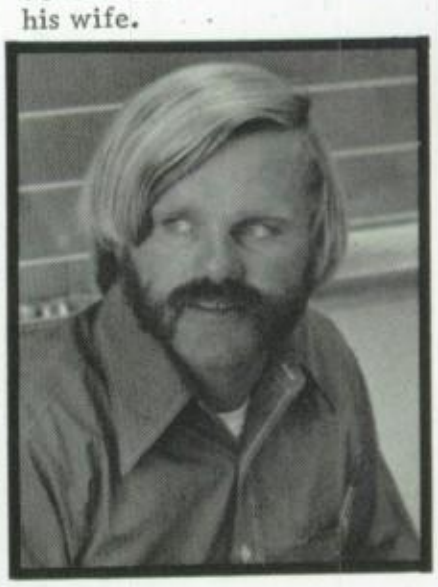
PHYLLIS HARSMA is new to us at Cl this year, She comes to us via the Univ. Of Missouri and Sacramento State College. When she can manage to escape her classroom duties teaching Typing and Business Machines, she can be found out on the golf links.

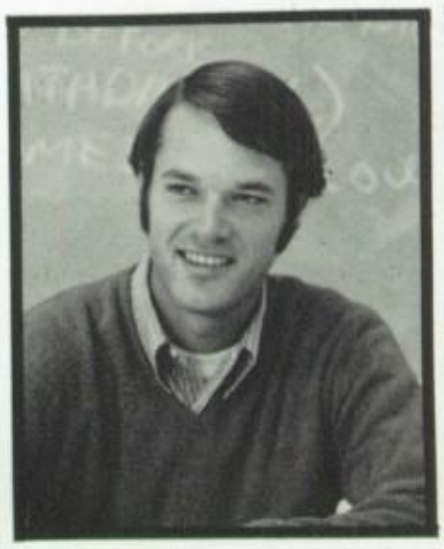
SID HILL has a zany sense of humor or else he really does beat up old ladies for sport. We prefer to believe that baseball is really his athletic passion. In the area of musical interests, Mr. Hill's taste turns to "ethnic and semiethnic American folk music which leans heavily to blues, bluegrass, and old-time string band music.

STEVE HOAGLAND is a Capricorn who says he will have to consult with his astrologer as to whether or not he believes in the stars. When it is time to vacation, Mr. Hoagland swears he'll never tell where he goes off to, but we guess it to be someplace to ski during the winter months.

BOB HOPPLE is polite when he yells at the students in his classes... "Will you shut up, please!" Even though he is not Italian, Mr. Hopple's favorite food is a sandwich concoction whipped up in his hometown called a "Zep." Now that he has taught his wife to make that sandwich it is always included in the provisions when they go to Big Bear Lake.

AL HUSO is a true believer in the bumper sticker on his car, "I'd Rather Be Sailing." He has a boat of his own and often competes as a member of a crew in racing competitions. He was a winner in one of the largest and most important races earlier this year. If he weren't a teacher he envisions the life of a true beach bum for himself and his wife.





JACK INTLEKOFER is a Gemini who says he sometimes believes in his astrological predictions. Maybe one of his twin personalities is a believer. It is a good thing that Mr. Intlekofer teaches in a beach community such as Oxnard---it makes it convenient for him to purchase his favorite food, abalone guts.

MARY JANE JACOBS is chairman of the Home Economics department. She teaches the clothing classes here at CI and is vitally interested in Vocational Education Programs. She hopes to introduce new courses along these line to the curriculum of the district.

GLENN KEULER always tells his students that something is "Beautiful, beautiful!" What we're trying to figure out is whether he means his own clothes or their work. Our Flashy dressing Business teacher is a Leo the Lion who feels his astrological predictions are right on target.

VIRGINIA KEYES is the only lady teaching in the Math Department. She spends much of her after school time working with the Foreign Exchange club which always plans a basketball competition between the classes. Leisure time is occupied decorating her home and spent with her two children.

MARVIN KILLGORE teaches Driver's Education as a member of the Social Studies department. He spends much of his leisure time with his young family and as an avid sports spectator. He and his family often come to games to watch CI sports teams in action.

ASTA KLAWITER, a true "nature child" in this age of Aquarius, which also happens to be her birth sign. She's a nut abouth health foods and therefore, we are not surprised to learn that her favorite dish is a concoction of baked eggplant with cheese and tahini (ground sesame seeds.)

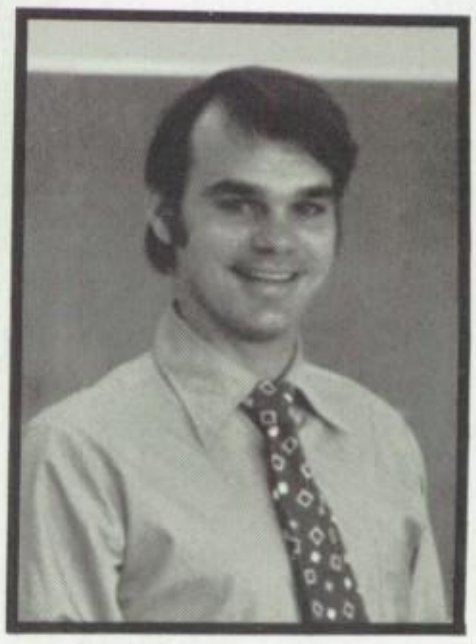
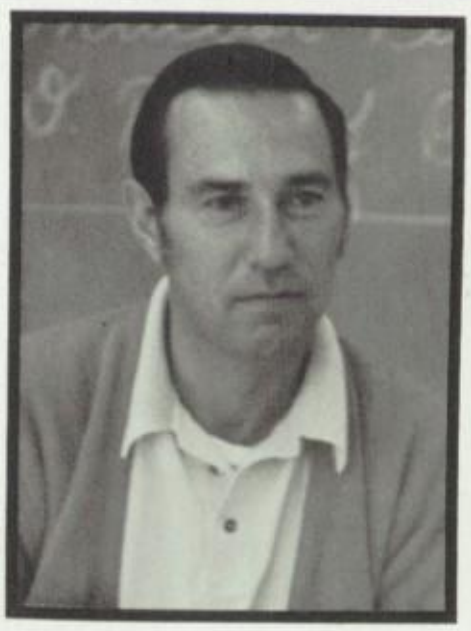
RICK KNOLES is our track coach who led his squad to heights of success this year. We couldn't get Mr. Knoles to tell us what his favorite snack was but we wonder if there is a student here who doesn't just love "Bicep a la Knoles". His most embarrassing situation was, when breaking up a fight, a student took a bite into Mr. Knoles's arm!

HOWARD LEE is a man who like to spend his free time riding a bike any place around the county. His interest in cycling made him a natural for the job of Advisor to the Bike Club. Members participated in a Ride-for-Cancer drive and donated a great deal of money to this very worthy cause.





MIKE LEONARD is a "golf freak" and spends all the time he can in pursuit of that sports hobby. Someday he's going to enter a match and show them all how it's done. Mr. Leonard teaches Urban Environments and Culture Studies as a member of the Social Studies department.

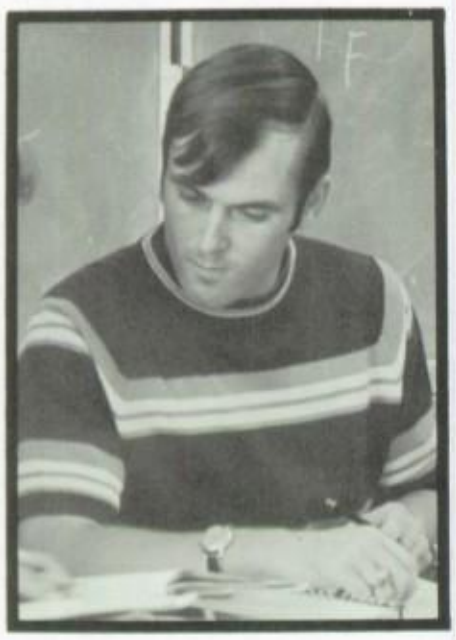
HENRY LEWENBERG is an English teacher with a fascination for semantics. His favorite classroom saying is, "Quantity is quality in the nation and the state." Think he's trying to tell us something? Mr. L. is an avid photographer and spends lots of time in his darkroom unless his wife can lure him out with his favorite dish, Sweetbreads Financiere.

EMERSON LEWIS is an Industrial Arts teacher who spends his school time instructing students in the finer points of working with metals in the shops. He's a very private sort of person who spends his leisure time working around his house and tinkering in the garage.

DIANE LUEDTKE isn't a French teacher but her favorite expression is "Fermez la bouche." More in character with her position as Girls" PE instructor is Miss L. 's fondness for the great outdoors - a source of relaxation she seeks out when ever possible. The "next best thing" is to curl up with a good book.

FRED LUNA is a new man on campus this year and has found a home in the Special Ed. department. He's an enthusiastic guy and highly spirited in his affection for CI and the students here---so much so that he managed to sneak into all the club pictures he possible could. Look for him in our LIFE section.

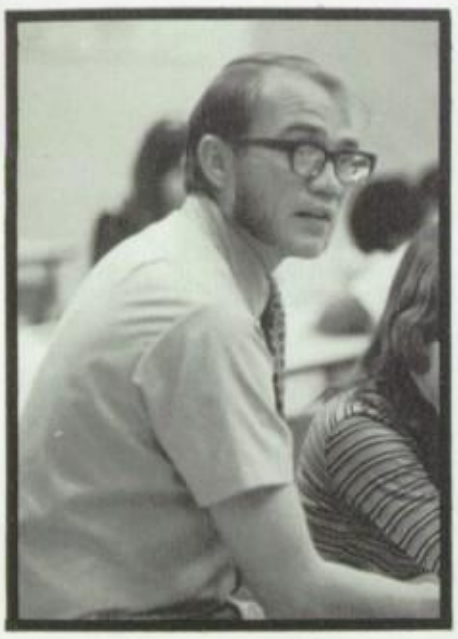
DORAN LYDICK tells us that the lure of working with young people in the field of education enticed him away from a possible career as a member of the state forest patrol or the fire patrol. This is a likely ambition for an individual who teaches in the Science field. Mr. L. does, in fact, work in the park system during summer vacations.



SHEILA MARRERO is our campus "Freud." As a teacher of Psychology courses, she always seems to have her nose buried in a "Psychology Today" magazine. Summers and leisure time finds Mrs. M. off travelling the world with her doctor husband and daughter, Martha. Included in her fascinating vacations was a Safari through Africa.

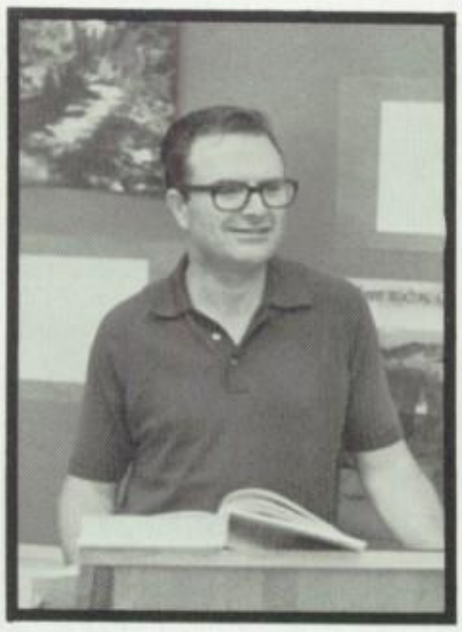
FRANK MATTSON is CI's version of Pat Boone--he's the father of four daughters! If at first you don't succeed. . . . An avid sports fan and keen observer, Mr. M. keeps "stats" for both varsity football and varsity basketball. He's usually on hand to help out at Track meets also.

LISBON MC CARTY is a member of the Math department and works primarily with Freshman classes. Because he gets along so well with the "froshbabes" Mr. M., known as "Mac" to his friends, assumed the duties of Freshman class advisor. Outside of school, Mr. McCarty is a sports fan and enjoys a "good game of poker."



RUSS MEYER is a Cancer the Crab who grooves on seafoods--his favorites are smoked herring and bar-b-qued oysters. When not spending leisure time with his nose in a book or the daily newspaper, Mr. Meyer may be found out buzzing around on his Honda.

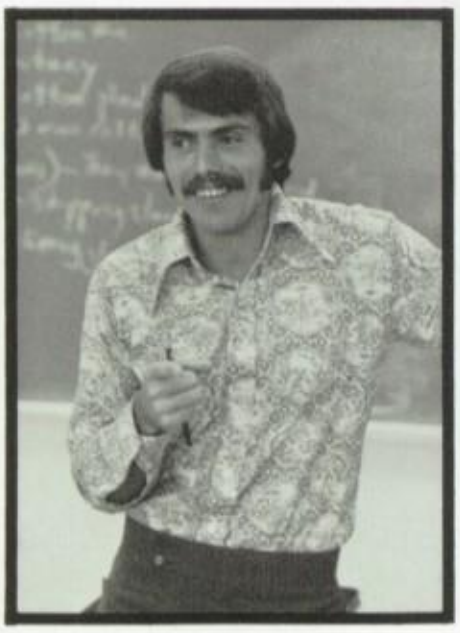
EIKO MILLER is a pert and perky English teacher who regularly greets her classes with, "Hello, you beautiful people!" She swears to us that she will eat anything at all---including the fantastic Oriental dishes she is famous for. (not bragging ---this information comes from other sources)



CHARLES MORSE was born "on a cusp" and can't decide whether he is a Leo or a Virgo ---some sources say one, some the other. No matter as he says he is interested and amused but not a true believer of astrology. When it comes to foods, Mr. Morse is not an adventurer. He'll settle for good old roast pork and potatoes.

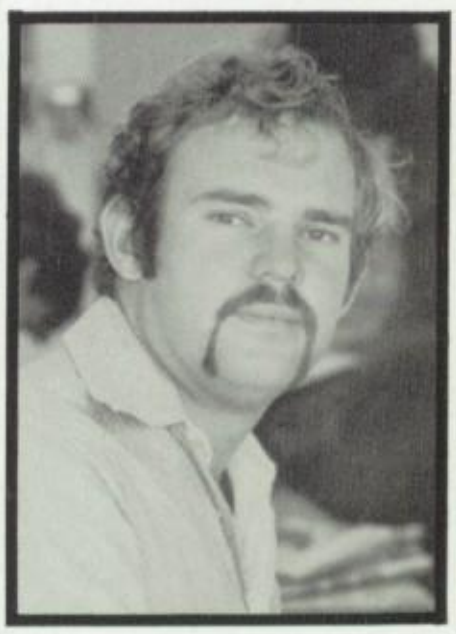
PAT MURPHY is still crying that "McGovern should have won!" She refrains from political leanings, however, on her midnite rides through Malibu as Lady Godiva. Being close to the sea is fortunate for a lady who enjoys sea-weed sandwiches marinated in chicken gumbo. It is rumored that the above inanities were comprised by a certain period I Psych. class.

BILL O'CONNOR is a talkative man in the classroom but quiet when it comes to revealing any information about himself. He did allow that if he were not a teacher he would like to pursue a career as a Nature photographer--particularly all the "nature" at Mr. Wingle's Nudist Farm.



DENNIS O'DEA is a Science teacher who yearns for time in the outdoors. In fact, if he weren't a high school teacher, he would have sought a career as a forest ranger. All that clean air may smell terrific but when it comes to food, this Irishman prefers the tempting aroma of pizza.

HANK ORNELAZ is new to the CI campus this year and has joined the staff of the social studies department. He also became involved as advisor to "Nuestra Raza," a magazine published by Chicano students. In addition, Mr. Ornelaz assisted Mrs. Villa with MECHA



PAUL ORSETH prods his student into working by asking, "Isn't this the most fun you ever had in your whole life?" Gr-r-r-r. This man is a Gemini, sign of the twins, who says he believes and disbelieves simultaneously in astrology. Is he putting us on? Let's hope, huh?!

CHARNELL ORTEGA is chairman (chairwoman? chairperson?) of the English department. Her students are all too familiar with "and now for the little surprise," a gentle introduction to a quiz or assignment. Mrs. O. enjoys spending free time with her family and says she loves to escape to her rocking chair. Supreme pleasure is lolling in that chair, doing the "Whistler's Mother" bit while husband Ike prepares her favorite dish, Teriyaki.

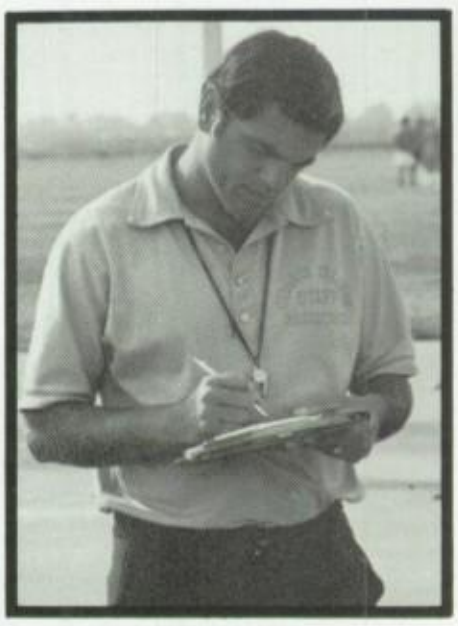
MARIE ORTEGA is more commonly known to her friends as "Ozzie." (No relation to Nelson) She's a PE teacher here at CI who likes to encourage her students by saying, "all right, ladies, realizing that we are not all Olympic material..." Mrs. Ortega and her husband, Eric, who teaches at Oxnard High, love to gorge themselves on a dinner of Lobster dripping with butter.

JIM PARDIKES comes to us new this year at Channel Islands as a member of the Science department. He is truly a silent man---very stingy with words. Taking an interest in sports, which he shares with his cousin and good buddy, Mr. Gankas, Mr. Pardikes helped out with the Freshman Football Teams.

TOM PARISO is an all around good guy and well-liked man on campus, best exemplified by the fact that he is recipient of the honor of dedication of this yearbook as our "Man of the Year." MR. P. is a "paisono", digs food Italienne, and prods his football players with "offers they can't resist." Varsity Football and Senior class occupy much of Mr. Pariso's time on campus although he always finds time to help out with other sporting events. Free time means camping with the family clan or working on and thinking about Football season.

BOB RIGGS is director of all the vocal music groups here at CI, and rules the roost over in room 100, where he has been known to warn the uninformed to "stay off the piano." The Rigg's became the proud parents of a baby girl this year and happily shared the news of their first child's birth. Leisure time is most often in musical pursuits and "just being with my two gals."

MARY RINEHART thinks she is a comedian. We concede that she is a very witty lady ---but breakfast of coffee grounds swimming in butter? She's a Virgo who believes in predictions only when they're good. Mrs. R. refused to tell us her "getaway place," claiming that was classified information, but she and daughter, Leslie, like to camp in Northern California and enjoy skiing in the winter.



DON SALADO made his way into a full time position in the Boys' Pe department this year and left the Math department behind. He loves the opportunity to work out of doors nearly as much as he enjoys coaching Varsity Basketball. Mr. Salado is CI's answer to Lee Trevino, but says he wouldn't be caught dead eating a "Patio" enchilada---though he wouldn't mind making a commercial or two.

DAVE SCHMIDT is an English teacher who regularly reminds his students to some prepared to class. "If you don't bring your pencil and paper, you can't do the work." Outside of the classroom, Mr. Schmidt takes every opportunity to be involved with sports, whether it be coaching Freshman Football, or jumping onto the courts for a game of Tennis, especially if his partner is going to be his pretty wife, Lynne.

LYNNE SCHMIDT is "Mrs. Dave" and the tennis partner we just spoke of on page 178. When not teaching her Business classes, Mrs. Schmidt enjoys spending time in the kitchen whipping up her husband's favorite dinner of sauerkraut and pork chops or her favorites, Manicotti and enchiladas. Promise her anything, but take her to the drug store and keep her happy with red licorice and sunflower seeds.

TOBEY SCHOOLMAN loves to tease her students with Ethnic vocabulary tests--define "schmata", please. When not teaching her classes, Miss S. "jumps on my tricycle riding into the sunset; change into my roller derby uniform, play for the San Francisco Bombers and coach the offensive backfield for the Oklahoma Sooners." Time out from that for food means a handful of "Screaming Yellow Zonkers and "even Tobey Schoolman's body needs milk!"

WINDA SHOLES is a PE teacher who is always urging her students to "Hustle, ladies," especially if the ladies are her Drill Team gals. Miss S. digs health foods and cit-es her favorite as a mixture of Granola and dried seaweed. Miss Sholes is an outdoor gal and spends as much free time as possible getting to the beach, mountains, or "anyplace out of doors."

DOUG SPECK is quiet and reserved when it comes to talking about himself, but he's pretty crafty and creative when typing up satirical parodies of office memos. A member of the Social Studies department, Mr. S. teaches History courses and Driver Training. In the Spring semester, Coach Speck joined Coaches Knoles and Orseth in working with the track teams towards yet another winning season.

YVONNE TANG is a most poised lady and therefore we find it hard to believe that she escapes from CI by going home and "Yelling at my husband." Perhaps that's only if he's sniping away at her favorite food--bar-be--cued chicken bones. (that's what the lady said!) Mrs. T. likes to start her classes each week by telling her students, "this is what we're doing this week so you'll know which days to be absent."

DAISY TATUM is a favorite lady on campus who finds a home as chairman of the Girls' PE department. She is also one of the sponsors for GAA which participated in its first year of CIF competition. "Uniforms are our first concern of the year for our gals." Miss Tatum loves sports and spends as much time outdoors as possible though she says she'll spend some lunch hours indoors. "I'm finally giving up noon-duty, after 6 years of 'guarding the gate'."

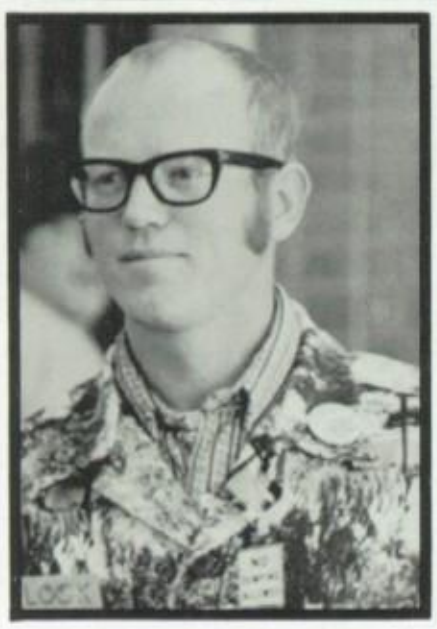
SUSAN TAYLOR teaches French so her students know what she means when she says "Fermez la bouche." Her calm manner in school belies that fact that she claims to have a true Arian temper. Miss Taylor is sponser of "the very active" French club and assists Mrs. Tang with responsibilities for Girls' League. A real "basketball freak," Miss Taylor rarely misses a game to cheer for the Raiders.

TOM VAIL keeps himself pretty much a secret, but we know he camps out in the Math department where he teaches Algebra, Geometry, and Trigonometry. He's got a deep bass voice that scares his students into learning.

NICK VARNAVA is the quiet and mild mannered chairman of the Foreign Language department. Mr. V.'s birthday is in the month of January making him a Capricorn but he denies any belief in Astrology. Lunch-time usually finds Mr. V. sampling the daily fare in the school cafe, but if he had his choice, he'd much prefer his favorite freaky dish, turtle soup.

FAYE VILLA is a lover of peanut butter and dill pickle sandwiches. Not so unusual! Mrs. Villa is very active on campus as sponsor of Mecha, always a top competitor for "Club of the Year" honors. An avid sports fan, Mrs. V. makes it to most football games during the season.

CHUCK WILLIAMS is the man who runs the Wood shop on campus. He spends a great deal of time involved with the American Federation of Teachers for whom he is campus representative.



HAROLD VENABLE passes the school day in the Science department but spends most of his free time building his own house. "I get a lot of visceral pleasure pounding the nails to a pulp and imagining that they are questionnaires." (a slur at the LOG staff.) Mr. V. feels that his life is very uneventful at the present and looks forward to the completion of his house when he can get back to watching the tube from 4 to 1 o'clock every day.

LEO WINGLE is our very own "Mr. Excitement." Under that quiet and calm exterior beats the heart of a man who yearns to own his own Nudist Camp---just, of course, to give Mr. O'Connor a place to practice his "nature photography." When torn away from his Math classes you can bet Mr. W. is working on strategy and plans for the football team as a member of the Varsity coaching staff.

RON WISE is still the blond and bearded member of the Industrial Arts department. This year he taught Metal and Crafts. Favorite foods for Mr. W. are sunflower seeds, Granola, and just about any other goody from the Health Foods store.

VIRGINIA WOOTEN is new to the faculty at CI this year as a member of both the English and Girls' PE departments. She's a lady who takes to the outdoors whenever possible and grooves on hot fudge sundaes.

CLAIRE WYERS is the lady behind the "shades" who buzzes around town in a snazzy MG. She especially loves teaching Cultural Studies and spends most summers abroad seeing in person the places, people, and cultures she discusses in class. At home, Ms. Wyers enjoys living near the beach and holds a special fondness for a cute little poodle named "Boo."

HERMAN ZELLER is new to the faculty this year and reigns over the "Agricultural Domain" out by room 93. He is enthusiastic about building an active program for students who enjoy working in the world of plants. One sure way to lure Mr. Z. out of the garden is to offer him his favorite dish of rabbit prepared German-style.

glenn keuler/miss basketball 1973

Involvement pertains to students, faculty, and administrators alike, not only insofar as the "serious and important" things that relate to school, but in some of the "fun" things as well. It means getting to know each other, to support each other, and to enjoy each other. It is tests and papers, clubs and activities, dances and chaperones, rallies and assemblies. It is a bunch of men teachers vying for "Miss Basketball" and a group of women teachers playing basketball to raise ASB funds. It is timing at Track Meets and taking tickets at concerts. It's dressing up on game day and it's rooting loyally for a team that doesn't always come out on top. It is a Clean Campus Drive and a Cultural Fair Celebration. It is also saying "thanks" to a teacher or friend who has brought something important into your life. It is saying to another person, "You are a good person; I want to be your friend." Often the "saying" is unspoken, often it is indirect. It is difficult to tell someone you care about them as an individual. Mostly we let our actions do our talking---a smile, a joke, a slug on the shoulder---a little bit of warmth shines through.

There are many ways to become involved in school life and in the lives of the school population and there are as many ways of making that involvement known and felt. We think here at Channel Islands we have something very special going in people-to-people relationships. It is something that most of us feel but it is something that needs putting into words. Students do care. The faculty does care. The administrators do care. We all care. We are involved.

Amongst the Sophomore class you will find strange creatures called class officers. Their Leader is very unique in that she is the only one who ever shows up for anything. If you think that this is strange, you should see the Vice President. She shows up for everything. The Secretary and Treasurer follow their Leader. Strange yes, but did you know that these creatures can lead a class? Did you know that they are what some of us call spirited? Take a close look at one of these creatures. But don't get too close, they may Sophotize you! They are dangerous and unmerciful to those who just ain't got spirit; but nowadays who does? These creatures are very vengeful, too. They like to clobber little defenseless Freshmen and enslave them. One more thing about these creatures...they like to order their class rings three sizes smaller than normal. Now that you know what to look for in finding a Sophomore, we would like to advise you not to get emotionally involved.

GIVE'EM THE SLIP DEPT.

There's one thing about school that never seems to change, mainly all those dull notices we get whenever someone in the Office has something to tell us. Most students get bombarded with them---some for more favorable reasons than others. If the office is supposed to be so friendly, why not make its announcements friendly? Just think how much more appealing all those stuffy notices would be if they were pepped up into these...

Greeting Cards From the Office

EXCUSE REQUEST

I wish Arneda Howard to be excused from ____ at the teacher's convenience. Reason: ____

When this little blue slip bears your name,
What have you done, dear child, for shame.
Sterling or Benefield beckons and calls,
Your behavior, apparently, someone appalls.

YOU KNOW

...your heart beats wildly up on the bidding stand, because you don't know what you're in for on Slave Day.

...your slave master dresses you up in those kooky outfits and makes you do the dumbest things.

...you feel like a crazy nut in that getup, but try to grin and bear it 'cause it's not that bad!

In all your eight years of school, you probably have been faced with new and difficult experiences, but there always appeared some older and wiser person to help you through the crisis-- like your mommy to help you pull off a bandage on a scraped knee. Now you have taken that enormous step into High School and are under the protective wings of dedicated counselors/baby-sitters. And now you are in your Freshman year and faced with a most terrorizing experience-- SLAVE DAY!! This, most likely has been a barrel of laughs for every Freshman that was bought.

YOU'RE REALLY A FRESHMAN WHEN

...you can bring your own bike to school.

...you are having the time of your life on Slave Day.

Pres., Susan Rodriguez, Treas., Yolanda Santos, Sgt-at-arms.

Remember how much FUN it was LOOKING FORWARD to getting up on the bidding stand and wondering if someone would buy you with the Senior Dollar? On Slave Day you met up with your master and got into that EXCITING outfit. And all day long you were EAGER to carry all his friends books, and at lunch dance and sing and make a complete fool of yourself? See what a new experience that DAY was? Now you tell yourself when you're an old ripened Sophomore, you'll buy a slave and give him a day he will never forget!

...you can still have fun playing leap frog.

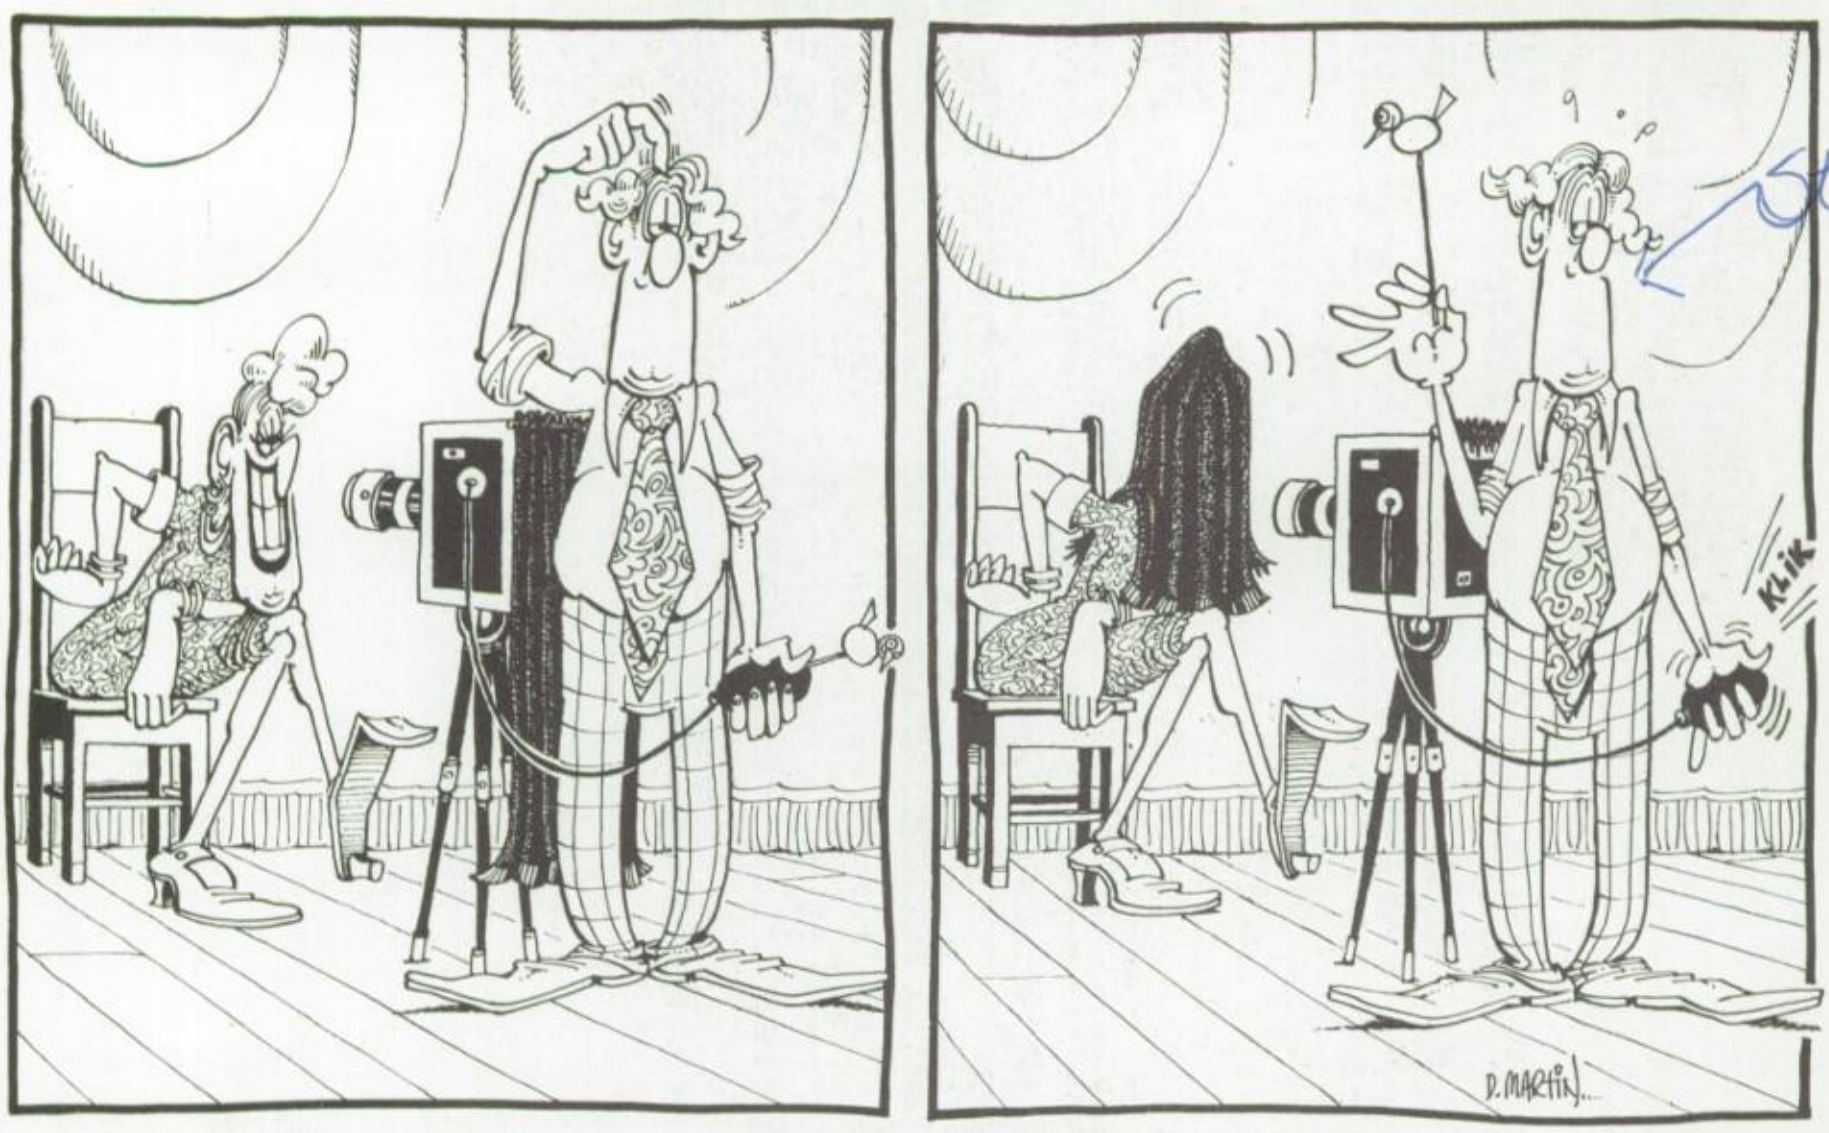
O'CONNOR BROS. STUDIO DEPT.

ONE DAY AT THE PHOTOGRAPHER'S



The MAD staff of the RAIDER'S LOG would like to take a serious moment to express its deep appreciation to Larry, Randy, and all the gang at O'Connor Brothers Studios for their time, efforts, professional expertise, and everlastingly diplomatic charm which saw us through some of the "rough spots." We are all sincerely grateful---Sophia included.

Joey,
I guess this is the last yearbook I'll be signing. You are a very special friend to me & we have had alot of fun these last four years. All of us have seen through both hard and good times, but I think the good times made up for the hard. I wish you all the happiness in the future you deserve it! I am fond of you and I hope our friendship will never end. You are one person who can make me smile & bring me out of my shell when I'm down. I want you to know that I'm always here if you need someone - okay? Just remember I'm always here if you need someone - okay? and we'll become - okay? Well, I'll take care and I'll see you later.

Love,
Lana Marie

(I hope you can read my sloppy writing)

My Joey,

What can I say Joey, already we're going to miss CI I don't believe it! Can you! You know I really don't want to say, or even think about the time when one you'll see! I'm so glad I got to know all the gang you guys are such a great bunch! Remember the first time I met you guys at camp that summer how you teased me I turned red, cursed, and thunk any one really cute about them. I can remember so clearly the times I bored you with my problems you are always there to listen, be a friend, and for that I'm glad. Not too many people are willing to sit down and hear other's problems you're a beautiful person with the funniest sense of humor delightful, sweet, kind humans you'd been I needed your friendship. Remember all the parties you had, that's the best times ever you were forever trying to set something up with that one guy and there aren't too many like you. I am happy that God made you the way you are kind sweet, funny, and crazy mine had a lot of good times, cracking up, and especially drinking which happens to be the best part of all. Promise me one thing, that what ever you don't ever let anyone change your personality. I hope that someday when you finally settle down with that one special girl in your life, that she appreciates and loves you for what you are. I wish you all the luck in the world. ya you really deserve it. Take a strong hold on life and make it pay off. and remember this "always open the doors to opportunity for they only knock once" I know that what ever you do it will be for the good and not worst. I only hope that what ever the future holds for us both that we'll always continue to be the very best of friends. I remember my friend you that it had a crush on you, but you never knew did you! Dumb Dee I am never write straight! "are you angry, Sad Sick, I That's all will always hold special memories for me, because I am too tear then at your house. I think she said quit enough it could go on writing on page 3, but I better not. I say God always Stunt His Special Stars and Guide you through the Ups of Life. Take Care and Don't ever forget me cuz I'll never Forget you. True Friends are like Diamonds Special But Rare. False Friends are like Autum Leaves Found Everywhere". I guess you're one of the Diamonds arent you. Have fun this summer and in the years to come. Bless you always

who Cares

always remember the summers we shared, the Good and the Bad times

Jay

Do you hated me huh? I guess you just didnt know how to handle women like me. and no jay you didnt leave me crying in front of th gym and get that threw your thick head jay. Well jay as I have know you threw high school and in my eighth grade year I can say it all was love good, but what was good. man was it good. Ill always treasure in my heart all the times we went to the parties and the Sweetheart Dance. Jay you are one person I can depend on when im in a down mood, I can depend you to make me laugh me and bring a little sunshine in to this world of mine that has no meaning without (haha)
I love you Jay I appreciate your friendship more than anything in this world. Ill always remember "What On the Beach" the lots of luck and happiness in the future and I hope that next time you
"make it" but not let nothing end our friendship
you can always count on me remember that.

Love always
Tina
